Candidate named by Ukip for election

UKIP has announced its candidate to stand for Cannock Chase in next year's General Election.

Grahame Wiggins, aged 70, will stand for the seat currently held by Conservative Aidan Burley, who is standing down.

Mr Wiggins is a chartered construction manager who began his career as a builder's surveyor and held a number of directorships with construction and development companies.

He said "It is a great honour to be confirmed as the candidate for Ukip. Business has suffered greatly over decades from the ever-increasing weight of government and EU regulation. The fact that the Chase area is still doing well speaks volumes for the tenacity of our local workforce and management. It is vital that we increase our local prosperity."

He will stand against Tory Amanda Milling and Labour candidate Janos Toth.

Mr Burley is standing down next year after just one term saying he had had a 'difficult time'. It came in the wake of criticism over his attendance at a stag party in the French Alps in 2011 where he arranged a Nazi uniform for the groom.

Cannock Chase saw the biggest swing in the 2010 election.

Jury fails to reach verdict

A JURY has been discharged after failing to reach a verdict on a driver charged with causing the death of an 11-day-old baby.

Thomas Fryer, aged 31, of Garrets Green, Birmingham, hit a broken down Seat Leon near Hilton Services on the M6 southbound on May 26 last year.

Da'wood Hewitt, of Milton Road, Cannock, died after being airlifted to Birmingham Children's Hospital. A decision about a retrial will be made at Stafford Crown Court on August 22.

UNIT TO STAY BUT HOURS CUT

THE under-threat minor injuries unit at Cannock Hospital looks set to be kept open – but the hours it operates will be reduced.

Doctors on cash-strapped Cannock Chase Commissioning Group had planned to shut the Minor Injuries Unit at the Brunswick Road site in a bid to save £750,000.

But health bosses then came up with revised plans to get GPs to run the service following a public outcry.

However, council chiefs described the proposals as 'wishy washy' and ordered a review to be carried out to see what was feasible.

The specially-formed working group looked at all options including closing the unit, keeping it open or drafting in GPs.

It has now recommended that the unit should remain open but with reduced hours.

Staffing

Under the plans, it would open from 11am to 7pm, seven days per week. It is currently open from 8am until midnight.

A GP out-of-hours service would begin at 6.30pm until 8am the following day to deal with minor illness.

Bosses say the majority of patients currently attend between 9am and 7pm but staying open between these hours would span more than one shift pattern and 'therefore would incur higher staffing costs', according to bosses.

The unit would continue to be staffed by two nurses and one receptionist.

A report by the CCG states: "This option offers the least disruption to the patients of Cannock whilst allowing the CCG to realise an acceptable level of financial savings.

"This option aligns with the goals and values of the CCG and forms part of a wider work stream to address the emergency and urgent care system across the county, whilst allowing further development work to commence in primary care around improving access and capacity for patients."

The CCG is suffering from a cash crisis and is overspending by £9 million a year.

Health bosses say the unit can take up to 20,000 patients a year but it is attracting only 16,414.

Of those, 76 per cent are able to be treated by a doctor or have to be sent to away to another hospital.

Residents feared the closure of the service would add more pressure on A&E and doctors' surgeries.

CCG boss Andrew Donald has said the unit in its present form 'does not deliver what is required and in the tight fiscal environment the sustaining of a service which does not deliver what is required is difficult'.

The plans will be discussed by Staffordshire County Council's healthy Staffordshire select committee next Monday (August 11).

Driver crashes into landmark pub

The damage caused to Longford House in Cannock. The driver, aged 38, was cut free from his Mazda

EMERGENCY crews say a driver is lucky to be alive after he crashed into a Cannock pub and was trapped for 90 minutes.

The red Mazda ploughed through the wall of the Longford House at Longford island and into the toilet block at about 1.35am on Monday.

The driver, a 38-year-old man from Wolverhampton, suffered serious leg injuries and remains in a stable condition in hospital.

Fire crews from Cannock and Longton took 90 minutes to release the man by using hydraulic cutting equipment to cut off the roof of the car.

West Midlands Ambulance Service spokesman John Hawker said: "Crews arrived to find a car that had left the road, travelled over a wall and entered the toilets of Longford House."

"The car was embedded in the building and the man driving the car received treatment to his leg injuries for the 90 minutes that he was trapped."

"Considering the damage to the car and the extensive damage to the building, it is extremely fortunate no one was more seriously or fatally injured."

The driver was taken to University Hospital of North Staffordshire while ambulance crews worked with fire fighters throughout the night to make the scene safe. His injuries are not thought to be life-threatening.

A structural engineer from Staffordshire County Council is assessing the damage.

The pub has been closed temporarily, but the hotel next door is open as usual. Beefeater spokesman Doug McPherson said it was not yet known when the pub would reopen.

"As the safety of our guests is our number one priority, we have made the decision to close Longford House temporarily until necessary repairs can be made," he said.

Lights are put out in a tribute to fallen

THOUSANDS of lights were turned across Staffordshire to mark the hour, 100 years ago, that Britain declared war on Germany.

The county was plunged into darkness for a shared UK-wide hour of reflection ending at 11pm, the time the deadline passed for Germany to withdraw its troops from neutral Belgium.

Staffordshire County Council's headquarters Staffordshire Place took part in the Lights Out event on Monday night.

The National Memorial Arboretum, at Alrewas, near Lichfield, held the first candlelight vigil between 5pm and 9pm, with a service at 8pm, including prayers, readings, music and poetry.

A similar service was held at St Michael's Church in Penkridge organised by the Royal British Legion from 10-11pm.

The switch-off was the centrepiece of the 14-18 Now programme. Funded by £10 million of National Lottery money, it is the brainchild of the Department for Culture, Media and Sport.

Hednesford Town Council chairman Alan Pearson said: "World War One was supposed to be the war to end all wars so by remembering the fallen in this way is a fantastic idea."

Rabbits die in home fire

THREE rabbits died when a blaze caused by a tea light ripped through a carport housing 40 hutches.

The rabbits were said to be among dozens being kept at the property in Ellis Walk on the Rumer Hill estate in Cannock.

A next door neighbour who smelled the smoke alerted fire crews at 10.30am on Monday.

Station manager Graham Mills said the carport was 'well alight' when they arrived at the property.

Students in graduation ceremony

SOUTH Staffordshire College hosted two graduation ceremonies for 80 students with learning difficulties and disabilities.

The ceremonies took place at Rodbaston Hall in Penkridge on July 7 and July 14.

Each student was welcomed on to the stage by chief executive principal Graham Morley and director of curriculum and support Chris Davies to receive their certificates. The college has a dedicated team of tutors who work with students with special learning difficulties and disabilities (SLDD).

Progress

The programmes, delivered across the Rodbaston, Tamworth and Cannock campuses, cater for learners with a variety of moderate and profound learning difficulties and disabilities and are designed to allow them to progress at their own pace.

The college also has a campus at Lichfield.

Mr Morley said: "We put students at the heart of everything we do and our mission is to provide them with the best route to academic excellence."

Residents 'cut off' by loss of bus service

CHASE MP Aidan Burley claims residents have been 'cut off' by the withdrawal of a bus service. The Conservative MP has written to bus company Arriva expressing concern at recent cutbacks.

This includes the loss of the 32 service between between Hednesford-Cannock-Norton Canes-Brown-hills-Walsall. Arriva said not enough people use the service meaning it is not financially sustainable.

Appeal over downgrade turned down

A BID by campaigners to get a judicial review into the downgrading of services at Stafford Hospital has been vetoed by the courts.

A judge turned down an appeal by campaign group Support Stafford Hospital. Its original application for a judicial review was rejected on July 18.

The Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust, which runs the hospital, is due to be dissolved in November with some services being moved to hospitals in Wolverhampton, Walsall and Stoke.

The group said it would appeal against the decision, made at Birmingham Magistrates' Court by judge Justice Phillips.

Campaigner Cheryl Porter, co-founder of the Support Stafford Hospital group, said: "We feel sick and very sad. But we're going to consult with our solicitors and look at other forms of appeal."

A spokesman for the Trust said: "We note the court's decision. We are continuing to work closely with our partners to carry out the TSA plan that was widely consulted on last summer, to dissolve the Trust and transfer the management of its services."

However, the decision has prompted claims it has left elderly and less mobile residents unable to visit relatives, attend appointments and do their shopping.

Alternative

Mr Burley said: "As a result of these latest cutbacks, my constituents in the western half of Norton Canes, including Church Road and Norton Green Lane, have gone from a half hourly service to no service at all."

"The only alternative is an unacceptably long walk to Walsall Road while the elderly and less mobile are completely cut off."

In February 2011, Arriva was forced to withdraw a decision to scrap the service after a campaign was launched to bring it back.

Mr Burley said he would contact Staffordshire County Council which is responsible for providing socially necessary bus services where the operator is not prepared to operate them on a commercial basis.

Arriva bosses say they are looking at starting an hourly service linking Cannock with The Orbital Retail Park, Lakeside Business Park, Norton Canes, Heath Hayes and Hednesford.

Triathlon worth the weight

Mark Bowdler, aged 48, from Heath Hayes, cheered on by locals after his triathlon

A PLUMBER shed four stones after agreeing to take up a triathlon challenge.

Mark Bowdler, who weighed more than 18st at the start of this year, tipped the scales at just 14 stone just five months later when he took part in the 200m swim, 20k ride and 5k run.

The 48-year-old from Heath Hayes, is planning another triathlon next year to make sure he keeps his slimmed-down figure.

In January, Mark booked himself a place in the Nantwich Triathlon in Cheshire on June 1 as a way of forcing himself to get fit.

He said: "I knew I had to do it then. So I hit the gym at Burntwood Leisure Centre and trained for two hours after work five or six times a week."

Mark raised more than £1,000 for the Macmillan Cancer charity. He was helped by his local, the Five Ways pub, his employers K & S Contracting in Hednesford and a friend's business, Norton Gates and Fencing.

Plea after woman's phone is snatched

A WOMAN had her mobile phone stolen as she walked through Hednesford town centre.

A man grabbed the phone from the woman's hand as she walked along Cannock Road at around 11.45pm on Sunday, July 27. He ran off towards the train station.

An unknown third party approached the offender and, after an exchange of words, the phone was thrown onto a nearby verge and later recovered. The woman was unhurt.

The culprit walked off towards Chads Moor. He is described as 5ft 9in to 5ft 10in tall with a slim build. He was wearing a light grey tracksuit hooded top, with the hood up, and matching tracksuit bottoms.

CCTV has shown the area was quite busy at the time with pedestrians and motorists passing by both before and after the theft.

Police want to hear from anyone who witnessed the incident, and the driver of the vehicle which stopped.

Call DC Ian Whitehouse on 101 quoting incident number 832 of July 27, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Walk raises Amber cash

STAFF from a firm of solicitors raised £2,500 from a sponsored walk for a five-year-old girl.

Ansons employees braved the great British weather to walk 11 miles from its Cannock office to its Lichfield branch in aid of Amber Porterfield who has spastic diplegia cerebral palsy.

Money raised will go towards the £60,000 needed to take Amber to the USA for a life-changing operation to enable her to walk unaided.

Jen Farley, Amber's aunt and member of the Ansons dispute resolution team, said: "Amber is one step closer to achieving her dream thanks to the incredible support and generosity of everyone who took part."

Chosen charity

BURNTWOOD First Responders has been picked by Sainsbury's Cannock branch as its charity of the year. The Orbital Way store will strive to donate as much as it can over the forthcoming year.

Bringing to life the sounds of forest

A LIVE orchestral performance in the middle of a forest has been bringing Cannock Chase to life.

Living Symphonies – an instrumental composition that portrays wildlife, plants and the woodland eco-system – has been delighting visitors.

Composed and brought to life by James Bulley and Daniel Jones, the symphonies have created a sound for all the different elements of the forest from plants to animals.

They have been recorded by more than 50 musicians using 120 instruments. Speakers have been hidden in the trees for the sounds to be heard.

A spokesman said: "Together they hope to create a remarkable new way for audiences to explore forests with their ears as well as their eyes."

"As the visitor explores the music they will also become aware of just how complex an eco-system a forest is."

The £160,000 project is co-produced in partnership between Sound and Music, the national agency for new music and Forestry Commission England, supported with funding through the Arts Council England's Strategic Touring Fund.

Repair work is welcomed

REPAIR works being carried out on a bridge in Norton Canes have been welcomed by a councillor.

The £80,000 project along Burntwood Road is due to take 12 weeks. County Council bosses say the scheme is being carried out to ensure the bridge is safe.

Norton Canes Councillor Zaphne Stretton said: "When it rains heavily the stream floods so this work is definitely needed."

"They are adding a new sluice gate which will help. The work won't cause much disruption, if any, to drivers."

Quality mark

BRIDGTOWN Primary School has been awarded the Basic Skills Quality Mark which looks at 10 elements of school improvement. Jo Raybould, head-teacher at the North Street school, said the achievement followed two years of good SATs results.

Sisters face tough, but muddy challenge

TWO Rugeley sisters put their bodies on the line to raise nearly £700 for cancer research.

Becky and Chloe Cotton braved torrential rain for the 5k Pretty Mudder Race for Life at Longbridge.

The obstacle course included mud baths, crawling through tunnels and climbing over cargo nets before finishing by going down a slide into even more mud. They raised £685, which was matched by Becky's company Ernst & Young.

The siblings are members of the Phoenix Fitcamp in Lichfield and took part with three others, including another from Rugeley.

Chloe, aged 22, said: "When some of the girls from Phoenix Fitcamp said they wanted to take on the Muddy Race for Life we both decided that we wanted to join them. Our amazing granddad battled both stomach and lung cancer."

"He fought both, recovering from the stomach cancer and was in the clear from the lung cancer for seven years."

"Sadly we lost him to lung cancer last September, so we decided we wanted to help raise money and awareness."

"Neither of us have ever undertaken anything like this before and not only overcame the physical obstacles, we overcame a personal obstacle, that of not being able to do it."

Becky, 31, said: "It was an amazing achievement for us all."

"I'm getting married later this year and I wish granddad was going to be there but I know that he will be so very proud of what we have achieved."

Marches commemorate Great War anniversary

By Marion Brennan

A GENERATION of young men who sacrificed their lives in the First World War were remembered in a series of services.

The same weekend, the lights were turned off in homes, council offices, libraries and other public buildings to mark the hour, 100 years ago, that Britain declared war on Germany.

Groups including Royal British Legion branches, held candlelight vigils in a shared UK-wide hour of reflection ending at 11pm, the exact time the deadline passed for Germany to withdraw its troops from neutral Belgium.

When the ultimatum was not met, Prime Minister Herbert Asquith announced that Britain had entered the war.

The build-up to that fateful moment was marked at religious services, parades and many other ways across the region.

Marches and services were held across Cannock Chase with singing, prayers and readings at each of the district's three main towns.

Guests

After a morning ceremony and parade at Cannock, cadets, ex-servicemen and special guests moved on to Hednesford and later Rugeley for similar commemorations.

The day ended with a special Centenary Concert at the Prince of Wales Centre in Church Street, Cannock, with music from the Band of the West Midlands Fire Service.

Veterans and cadets stood erect throughout the ceremony despite the steady rain, shunning umbrellas.

The Deputy Lord Lieutenant of Staffordshire Mrs Sarah Elsom, who led the special guests, said: "We were not celebrating but commemorating and the tone of the service was just right."

She was joined by civic dignitaries and the public to mark the centenary commemoration which began with a march in all three towns led by the Lichfield 1206 (Mercian) Air Training Corps of Drums.

Police stopped the traffic as cadets from Cannock, Hednesford and Rugeley branches of the Staffordshire Regimental Association paraded alongside the ex-servicemen in blazers and berets, proudly displaying their medals.

At Cannock, the service was led by St Luke's vicar Reverend Peter Hart asked the 300-strong gathering to remember those who died in the war and those who returned wounded and disillusioned.

From the bandstand in the town square, the Rugeley Power Station Brass Band led the hymns which included the stirring classic O Valiant Hearts.

Families made the trip to pay their respects and shoppers stopped to join the congregation for a few minutes. Mother-of-two Sarah Dean, 34, of Shoal Hill, Cannock, said: "I've brought my sons here because it's such a big anniversary and I want them to remember the occasion, in years to come, even if they don't know exactly what it means now."

Honoured

Councillor Christine Mitchell, Cannock's cabinet member for culture, said: "I feel we have honoured those that died for the three towns by this ceremony."

On Sunday, the Royal British Legion's Great Wyrley and Cheslyn Hay branches were special guests at a Peace Games at Great Wyrley Juniors football ground in Long Lane, Essington.

Afterwards a service conducted by the Legion's padre, the Rev David Sims, and the Rev Morris Price took place at St Marks Church, Great Wyrley, followed by a salute at the gates of the Memorial Gardens, Walsall Road, and a parade to the branch's base at Harrison's Sports and Social Club in Wharwell Lane.

Council agrees to bus shelter works

SEVEN bus shelters that have fallen into disrepair in Cannock Chase are to be replaced or repaired at a cost of £24,000.

Cannock Chase Council's cabinet agreed to spend the cash on the shelters in Rugeley, Hednesford, Cannock, Bridgtown and Cannock Wood in the coming months.

The existing shelters have been vandalised or not maintained for as long as six years.

Shelters along Stafford Road, Cannock and Hednesford Road, Heath Hayes were replaced in March.

Entertainment from swing band

A SWING band will perform at a wartime-themed entertainment night next weekend.

The event is being hosted by a Great Wyrley social club.

Millertones Swing Band, Kathy Perry and Clint Hill will perform at Great Wyrley Sports & Social Club, in Walsall Road, on Saturday, August 9 at 8pm.

Tickets cost £4 or £5 on the door.

Proceeds will go towards the Royal British Legion Poppy Appeal.

Visitor centre is host of bat walk

A TALK and walk on bats will be held at Cannock Chase Visitor Centre this weekend.

The event is subject to weather and is due to begin at 8.45pm on Saturday, August 9 at Marquis Drive.

It will be led by a member of South East Staffs Bat group.

Cost is £2.45 for adults and free for children. Booking is required on 01543 871773.

Children taught survival skills

SURVIVAL classes for children are being held on Cannock Chase next week.

Youngsters will be taught how to build a shelter, tie knots, light fires and toast marshmallows.

They start at 10.30am on Friday, August 15 from the visitor centre at Marquis Drive. Cost is £2 per child. Call Steve Archer on 01543 871773.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

OUR changing language. Closing a number of Muslim bank accounts, HSBC says it's because they "fall outside our risk appetite."

WE journalists, being wordsmiths trained in economy and accuracy of language, would never use such jargon. Wanna bet? Reporting on the departure of a newspaper boss, the media website Hold the Front Page announces: "He has worked to transform the company from a primarily print and product-focussed group to a customer and community-focussed media solutions business." Ye gods and little fishes.

THE DVLA says there will be consultation on plans to reduce the cost of renewing a driving licence. So here's my response: don't be so damn silly. We renew our licences only once every 10 years. The plan is to reduce the fee from £50 to £34. That's a saving of £1.60 a year or about 0.4p a day. It is a piffling sum which most motorists will not even notice. Yet it will cost the Government about £18 million a year, which could surely be spent on something useful. Like filling in a few potholes?

AS the First World War commemorations reach their climax, a reader raises a fascinating question. Who is the youngest child of a veteran of the 1916 Battle of the Somme? He believes his sister, aged 70, is a contender. However, many Somme veterans were still around in the 1980s and some may have married more than once. It is perfectly possible that someone alive today in their 60s or even their 50s had a father who went over the top on July 1, 1916.

WHEN geeky, gawky Ed Miliband acknowledged his weird looks and admitted he'd never win a photo-opportunity, he was trying to stress his deeper, invisible qualities. I was reminded of Iain Duncan Smith's darkest hour in 2003. The then Tory leader growled: "Do not underestimate the determination of a quiet man." But it was a quiet, desperate sort of growl and it didn't work the miracle. One pundit labelled IDS "the quiet man who has much to be quiet about." It will probably be the same with Miliband. To be fair, there are a number of reasons why someone may appear weird. They may have inherited a shifty look.

They may possess an awkward sort of face. They may have a deep-rooted problem with bacon sandwiches. But one of the commonest reasons for a bloke looking weird is that he is weird.

EVEN so, prepare for the weird man entering Number Ten. The constituency boundaries are now so unfair that any Labour leader in the past 100 years could beat the Tories. With the obvious exception of Neil Kinnock.

BLACK cats are said to be suddenly unpopular, partly because they do not photograph well in selfies. According to the RSPCA, today's most popular cat colour is ginger. What a strange society it is that cherishes ginger cats but makes fun of ginger humans.

WHERE are the police when you really need them? If you happen to live in Dorset, the answer could be that they're busy nicking folk like Wayne Duke. The 34-year-old drives a classic 1969 Dodge Charger and, according to reports, was taking a bride and groom to their reception when he sounded his Dixie-tune air horn. A police car promptly pulled him over. Mr Duke says he didn't know the horn was illegal and you might think, as it was a wedding day, the police would have let him off with a gentle warning. Instead they handed him a summons to appear in court. The story has sparked an internet storm of "haven't the police got anything better to do?" I am a wee bit suspicious.

Transplant survivor's medal haul

A TRANSPLANT survivor has picked up a haul of medals at a European sports championships.

Mark Allen, aged 42, a former Chronicle reporter who grew up in Cannock Wood, represented Great Britain in the singles and doubles in table tennis, petanque and shot put at the European Heart and Lung Transplant Games in Vilnius, Lithuania. He picked up two gold medals in the overall doubles and age group doubles in table tennis and the silver in the singles. He has now been a European champion for the last six years.

Mr Allen, who now lives in Widnes, works as a media officer at Halton Borough Council and was given £150 from the authority's Sports Development Fund last year towards his competitions.

He said: "It is great to win medals but there are people who train every day, just to be fit enough to attend.

"The European Games are much more friendly than the British ones. It is great to see friends from other countries I only see once every two years."

Mr Allen's next competition is the British Transplant Games in Bolton in less than three weeks. The next European championships are in Finland in two years' time.

Fears expressed over homes plan at pub

RESIDENTS have expressed their fears over a residential scheme at a popular Cannock pub.

Brewers Marston's have agreed to sell the Pied Piper in Pye Green Road. HB Village Developments wants to knock down the premises and rebuild 16 flats, with two wardens' bungalows.

The assisted living accommodation would cater for vulnerable young adults with learning difficulties.

Nearby householders have voiced their concerns, saying the development would lie too close to homes in Hamelin Street. There are also worries over loss of light, lack of privacy and security issues, while emergency access could also be a problem, they say.

Danger

Homeowners in Old Fallow Road, opposite the pub, say the development's access would make it difficult for them to park outside their own homes. Campaigners also fear protected trees could be in danger and that bats have been seen flying around the vicinity.

At a public meeting last week, Jim Dempster, who is against the plans, said: "The site is not conducive to their needs."

"Privacy and security will be compromised and it's on a major road which is already difficult to negotiate."

An Old Fallow Road resident, who didn't wish to be named said: "We feel this particular location does not warrant such a development, on planning and safety grounds.

By Adam Burling

"The developers state such schemes should be sited close to local amenities. Yet one major amenity would be demolished to make way for it."

Plans have been formally lodged with Cannock Chase District Council and any objections must be received by August 14.

A pre-committee consultation meeting takes place at Bevan Lee Community Centre on Tuesday, August 12, from 1-8pm. The developers had said previously that all concerns would disappear during the consultation stage and that any unfounded fears would be allayed.

A spokesman added this week: "The full plans and layouts will be available for residents and the local community to study and ask questions at the public consultation next week."

Talk centres on Gaskin

"THE Hednesford Ripper" will be the subject of a presentation at Pye Green Community Centre next month. It is the latest in a series of Hednesford Town Council's heritage talks with a First World War theme.

Principal speaker for the talk about the infamous Henry Gaskin will be Paul Bedford, who wrote a book about the murderer.

The talk is at the Bradbury Lane venue from 7pm on Friday, September 19. Admission is by ticket only at a cost of £1, available before September 12 from either the community centre or Daisy Chain in Market Street.

Dragon day a roaring success

Cannock brothers Luke, aged 10, and Sean Histon, eight, display their creations

SIXTEEN local youngsters had a 'roaring' good time at Cannock Library as they took part in a special dragon craft event.

To celebrate 'Mythical Maze', this year's libraries' summer reading challenge, a local artist encouraged the children to let their imaginations run loose and create a fantastic menagerie of dragons, wizards and enchanted creatures.

Now in its 15th year, the national challenge is designed as a fun way to encourage youngsters to keep up their reading levels during the summer break, and is supported by a host of library activities, a dedicated website, and new for 2014, a Mythical Maze app.

Staffordshire's Library Leader, County Councillor Mike Lawrence said: "The children at Cannock Library clearly had a great time at the dragon craft event and produced some amazing models."

Children get hand to keep bikes safe

POLICE officers have been helping youngsters protect their bikes from thieves.

Over the past three months, Cannock PCSOs Liz Dale and Sean Nicholls have visited secondary schools in Rugeley and attended Bikesafe events in Cannock Chase to encourage youngsters to register their cycles on Immobilise online property register for possessions.

The officers have been fitting bikes with Immobilitags which allow the police to identify the rightful owner of a bike in the event of it being stolen. So far, 18 Immobilitags have been fitted at schools and a further 60 have been sold at Bikesafe events.

PCSO Nicholls said: "We've been really pleased with the response we've had to our bike tagging events. People seem to appreciate the wisdom of registering their bikes."

"The Immobilise website is used by all police forces," he added. "Reuniting a stolen or lost bike with its owner is much easier if it's been tagged and registered and it's quite simple to do."

"By taking a few minutes to register a bike, owners can save a lot of time further down the line."

Myths topic of workshop

MYTHS and legends from around the world can be explored in summer craft workshops at the Museum of Cannock Chase.

They are being held in Valley Road, Hednesford on Tuesdays until August 26 from 11am to 3pm.

Stamps can be collected on a passport each week to join an end of summer party. The drop-in sessions cost £1.50 per child. Adults go free.

The museum plays host to a Toys Galore workshop next Tuesday, August 12, from 2 to 4.30pm. Admission is free but booking is essential on 01543 877666.

Win a tablet

CHILDREN can win a tablet in a competition run by Chase Eyecare. Under-16s must explain why they like visiting for an eye test and why they enjoy wearing glasses. Entries must be sent before August 31 to either the Cannock or Hednesford branch.

Cafe the setting for fringe festival

PERFORMERS will be taking part in Cannock's first ever Fringe Festival next weekend.

Organiser, Caffé Del Nino owner Jonathan Floyd, has launched the event following a series of successful Open Mic nights at the High Green cafe. It takes place on Saturday, August 16.

The Cannock Royal British Legion ladies section has worked with Caffé Del Nino, Create:Church and Hope Baptist Church and the event features live music from the Market Place bandstand, children's entertainment, stalls and art displays.

Jonathan said: "We believe Cannock town is the ideal setting for a Fringe Festival - utilising the market square and open spaces on our doorstep."

"We are convinced we will capture the imagination of the Cannock people to work together to put the area well and truly on the map."

"This year's event is just a taster of what we hope to achieve over the coming years."

To be a part of the 2014 Cannock Fringe Festival, contact Jonathan at Caffé Del Nino, High Green Court, Cannock, call 01543 437430 or email jonathan.floyd@rocketmail.com

Take a tour of superstore

FAMILIES and community groups can take a peek behind the scenes at Tesco to learn how their food gets from farms to the plate.

The store has thrown open its doors as part of its Farm to Fork Trails programme. Staff at the Hedgesford branch have set up a series of days for shoppers to bring their children for a tour of the Victoria Street facilities.

Booking is essential for the dates which are August 5, 12 and 19 from 11am to 1pm, or 2pm to 4pm.

To book visit the store's customer service desk.

Pub reopens

A POPULAR pub has reopened after a £250,000 refurbishment. The Yew Tree in Jerome Road, Norton Canes re-opened on Friday (August 1). The Punch Taverns-owned pub has undergone a full refurbishment inside and out as part of a £45 million programme.

Blooming success for district's parks

Dignitaries fly the flag at Elmore Park, Rugeley

FOUR parks across Cannock Chase district have earned Green Flag status.

Council chiefs have welcomed the news that Cannock Park, Elmore Park in Rugeley, Ravenhill Park, Brereton and Castle Ring at Cannock Wood have all been included in a list of Britain's best parks.

The Green Flag award has to be applied for annually and each site is accredited by two Green Flag judges.

Cannock Chase culture chief Councillor Christine Mitchell said: "The council manages more than 1,000 hectares of parks and green spaces right across the district, that's about the size of about 1,600 football pitches.

"They play a crucial role in our communities and provide high quality, free open spaces that are so important to the quality of people's lives and we are committed to continue providing these."

"I'd like to thank our employees and all the other passionate individuals and voluntary groups who have worked hard to provide and maintain these vital green spaces which help to improve the quality of life for everyone."

Beacon park in Lichfield also received the accolade. District council cabinet member for leisure and parks Councillor Andy Smith said: "It's a fantastic achievement to achieve a Green Flag award for the fourth year running."

"This award recognises and highlights that people across Lichfield district are benefitting from a green space of the very highest quality."

Parking fears prompts homes scheme refusal

PLANS for houses on the site of a former Royal British Legion centre have been thrown out.

Officers had recommended the Bow Street scheme for approval but it was rejected over claims of insufficient parking.

Developers hoped to build four two-bedroom houses on the site. The terraced houses were earmarked for the land where the club stood with a designated parking space for each house. The club has been demolished since closing two years ago.

Saddling up to take on gym staff

GYM users in Cannock took on the trainers in a charity bike challenge, raising £280 for disabled children.

Fitness enthusiasts at Nuffield Fitness & Wellbeing Centre, East Cannock Road, saddled up for the challenge against staff, in aid of Caudwell Children's STEP programme.

Kim Burke, client service adviser at Nuffield Fitness & Wellbeing Centre, said: "The beat the trainer event was a great success and we'd like to thank everyone who got involved and helped raise money for disabled children."

"Our members challenged gym staff in a series of static bike challenges and really put them through their paces."

The weekend event also saw a raffle and bake sale with the proceeds going to helping children with life-limiting conditions.

Kirsten Greaves, challenge co-ordinator at Caudwell Children, said: "We're very grateful to the team at Nuffield Fitness & Wellbeing Centre for holding the fundraising weekend."

Speaking at last week's meeting, Rugeley councillor Carl Bennett said: "I am speaking against the application on the basis that the site is situated on Bow Street, with Sheepfair adjacent to it and that particular part of the town has heritage buildings."

"This is an over-development in view of the parking facilities for what would be happening there."

Problems

"We have had problems in that area for a number of years. It is not suitable for this development of four properties."

"Car parking in that area is taken up every day from morning until night. One space per dwelling is not suitable," he added.

"The company is not accepting its social responsibility in relation to this development. The planning officers have to speak to them and suggest they go for three houses and communal parking instead," said Councillor Bennett.

Rob Carr, on behalf of the applicant, said: "There are good public transport links to the vicinity. The bus station is just round the corner. The development enhances the setting."

Revving up in memory of Stephen

Organiser Ben Bennett, right, from Princess St, Burntwood and Lea Chadwick get ready for the Bushwhacked Bike Festival

CANCER sufferer Stephen Sutton became an honorary biker for a day last year when he joined the crowds at an event that he inspired.

Now organisers of the Bushwhacked Festival in his home town of Burntwood hope to raise thousands for the Teenage Cancer Trust in his memory.

The event started last year when Ben Bennett of the Hairy Bush Bike Builders was inspired by Stephen's wishlist of things to do. Mr Bennett said: "It was a great success - Stephen and his mother both attended and although it was a bit of a culture shock for her, she loved it."

"We're doing it again this year as we love what we do."

The event on August 15 and 16 features live music, displays of custom-built bikes and demonstrations on an off-road track.

Mr Bennett added: "Stephen made us realise that we should be doing more with our lives and making more of each day. So we decided to dig deep and put on the event last year and it turned out to be a great success. Hopefully it should be easier to get people to come this year because more people know about Stephen and will want to support the charity."

There will also be a bird of prey display, creepy crawlies and bouncy castle. More than 800 people flocked to the site last year and organisers expect even more this time.

A weekend pass is £20. Visit www.hairybushbikebuilders.co.uk

No, I've never understood motor racing, either.

Jump ahead eight years and the young Perky, as he was known to his friends, was making his own comics (Future Tense, Warp 10), photocopying them and selling them at St Peter's Collegiate School, Compton Park during lunchtime – with a cunningly attached fun-size Mars bar as a further incentive.

This seems a million miles away from Art Ludique Galerie's exhibition and Mike, now 44, was seriously impressed to see his work hanging in the gallery.

"It was truly an honour to be included in the exhibition with many of the artworks shown playing inspiration to my own illustrations of Captain part in a panel discussion with writer Mike Carey from the Comics Unmasked Exhibition at The British Library."

Perky has been focused on his career, never once thinking he was going to be anything else other than an artist.

"I was nurtured on a steady diet of 2000AD, Captain Britain and Doctor Who monthly, and got a Saturday job in a local comic shop, The Place, where I was not only exposed to a wider world of comics but also to the professional side of the industry while attending markets around England."

After studying at Bournville College of Art, Perky then went on a business course to get to grips with being an artistic entrepreneur and set himself up as a graphic designer and illustrator.

"It was during this time I worked on promotional materials, books, magazines, album designs and computer game development. In 1993 I hooked up with Temple Rogers Artists Agents and that really kick-started my comics and illustrating career."

Commissions

"I was given Commissions in 2000AD for Future Shocks and Judge Dredd stories. Then while living in Poland I continued to create work for Marvel UK, Henderson Publishing, Dorling Kindersley and Caliber Comics as well as further work for 2000AD and Nowa Fantastyka."

He has recently finished the 31 issue adaptation of Stephen King's The Stand which earned a place on the New York Times Bestseller list and then moved on to illustrating Astonishing X-Men.

Mike has been nominated numerous times for Eisner awards, which is the comics industry's "Oscars", and Harvey Awards for outstanding achievements in comic books and has won the Eagle Award.

Mike is currently launching a new Deathlok book from Marvel and the first issue will be out in October. Visit www.mikeperkinsart.com.

Or, to put it another way, is UKIP's ambition for a country free from the shackles of the European Union any different from the Scottish Nationalists' desire to be rid of Westminster?

Both parties appeal to the same nationalist – some would say parochial and isolationist – instincts.

How could a supporter of Britain's independence from Europe quibble if the Scots felt the same way about England?

The sight of Alex Salmond lordling it around Glasgow like the King of the Commonwealth Games is enough to infuriate most Brits. The leader of the Scots Nats clearly hopes the games will be another nail in the coffin of the historic United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

This is not unlike Nigel Farage's hope that success in May's Euro elections will translate into a breakthrough in next year's General Election.

Mr Farage may be a Home Counties gin-and-tonic man compared to Mr Salmond's highland whisky.

Ignored

But is Mr Farage wrapping himself in the Union Jack really very different from Mr Salmond in a Saltire?

Both men come from outside the established political parties. They are both adept populists. They both articulate deeply-held views which are ignored by mainstream politicians. They are both 'people's politicians'. But there is a difference between them – history. Mr Farage has history on his side; Mr Salmond does not.

England and Scotland have, for all practical purposes, been a single unified country since 1603. That's when Henry VII's great-great grandson James IV of Scotland took over from Elizabeth I and became James I of England as well. He called himself King of Great Britain and Ireland.

The two countries were formally united 100 years later and, despite a few ups and downs, they have been happily and successfully united ever since.

In the intervening three centuries or so, England and Scotland worked peacefully together as one nation (along with the Welsh and many of the Irish) to create a global powerhouse.

Yet when we look at Britain's – not just England's, Britain's – relations with the rest of Europe, things look quite different

For centuries we have worked to keep the peace across the English Channel. One way or another, we have been forced to sacrifice lives at frighteningly regular intervals to rescue Europe from its own folly.

Appeal as war heroes' graves are neglected

CALLS have been made to clean up three First World War gravestones which have become overgrown and neglected.

The stones in St James The Great churchyard in Norton Canes commemorate the lives and military service of three local men, one of whom died on November 11, 1918, the day the war ended.

The other two passed away on Christmas Eve 1918, it is thought of their war wounds.

Local resident David Frank said it was 'so sad' to see the graves almost hidden by grass.

The 75-year-old, who lives 200 yards away, said: "If you compare them with the German and New Zealand military cemeteries on Cannock Chase, which are perfectly kept, it is such a shame for these poor lads."

Scrub

"The stones need a good scrub because they've gone green. They served their time for us."

"With the anniversary of the outbreak of the war upon us, it doesn't seem right to see them in such a state. I'd just like to be able to say 'There fellas, how's that?'"

The graves belong to Pte James Morris, of the South Staffordshire Regiment, who died on Armistice Day, aged 34, Pte Samuel Whorton, of the Royal Medical Corps and Pte Joseph Hancox, of the Lincolnshire Regiment, who died aged just 22.

Ward councillor Zaphne Stretton said: "We should be looking after the graves. These soldiers helped to save David Franks at one of the neglected First World War graves in Norton Canes this country and we should be treating them with the utmost respect."

The churchyard is normally kept tidy by people serving Community Payback sentences but there have been several non-attendances.

Church warden Joyce Bennett said: "Our churchyard isn't normally in the state it is in at the moment. We have only had two or three people turn up just recently."

"It takes a lot of work to keep a churchyard tidy. Families have the responsibility of looking after their own graves but people do not. We do our very best to tend to them."

8 Pensioners stabbed in the back

The Chronicle Thursday, August 7, 2014

Ordinary people are much worse off

GEORGE Osborne says the UK economy is in recovery, but this is not being felt by most working class people. High energy and food prices along with stagnating wages, cuts in benefits, services and public sector jobs have left ordinary people much worse off under this divisive government.

Zero hour contracts and agency work is soaring, leaving workers without proper jobs and at the mercy of corporate exploitation and greed – creating a distortion in the so-called reduction in unemployment figures. The NHS as we know it is in crisis, both medical and non-medical services are being privatised by Clinical Commissioning Groups, cuts to the service are horrendous, there are over 4,000 fewer nurses and agencies are being allowed to rip the NHS off by charging extortionate fees for cover workers.

The Con/Dems have no mandate to carry out such idealistic free market policies on the NHS, or vicious cuts to the people who make up the backbone of this country. The recession was not caused by them, it was caused by the free market economy. I believe Labour have an ideal opportunity to heal the wounds that have been inflicted on the weakest in society by the Con/Dems. Ed Miliband must scrap the 'Health and Social Care Act', bedroom tax, zero hour contracts, agencies and all the welfare cuts that have been imposed by the Tories. And then only will we have a fairer society

PAUL WITTON, Cannock

Hospital care was first class

A SHORT while ago my wife had an operation in a private hospital.

A short while later she began to have stomach pains which grew in intensity resulting in her being taken by ambulance to the A&E at Stafford Hospital.

She was put under observation and as a result it was discovered she had a twisted bowel and she was immediately taken down to the operating theatre and the twist was corrected. She remained at the hospital for another three days before being discharged.

During the time my wife was at Stafford Hospital she received wonderful care and attention from everyone concerned and I can only describe it as first class.

It was spotless and efficient and I believe we need Stafford Hospital to continue as is and not let the politically motivated past mistakes keep the good name down.

ROB WESTWORTH Rugeley

Negative remarks do writer no favours

I WAS, quite frankly, appalled at Peter Rhodes' diatribe in his column (Chronicle, July 24) concerning his personal thoughts about the Church of England and as a practising Christian I felt moved to reply.

How fortunate we are in the UK to be allowed freedom of speech!

However, if, as he so wrongly predicts, this "clapped-out organisation" does fall by the wayside in years to come, consider how the Christians in Iraq are being treated at this very moment. Is this what he would want happening here by the end of this century? I would sincerely hope not.

My plea to Mr Rhodes is, to think very hard before putting such ill-becoming comments in print, as negativity like this does him no favours.

MINNA ANDREWS Burntwood

Scuppering chances of being proper town

RE: The letter by P Keeling (Chronicle, July 31). I don't know where he got info regarding Burntwood designer outlet being turned down by residents. We were hoping for a shopping centre some years ago with everyone in the area behind it.

We lost after it was taken to the ombudsman. It was turned down because it was supposed to be on green belt, but in fact was next to Morrisons and an industrial estate.

If Cannock gets its designer outlet shops this will scupper any chance that Burntwood can become a proper town.

Burntwood, a town of approximately 30,000 people, has been left behind while all around has grown up.

BRENDA PADOE, Chase Terrace

Why do so many rely on food banks?

WE have heard the head of the International Monetary Fund Christine Lagarde praise the UK and state that the UK's economy will see the fastest growth of the G7 countries, while Staffordshire County Council face cuts of £109m and Warwickshire County Council face cuts of £92m, which is similar to all UK councils.

We have historically unprecedented housebuilding across the UK matched by more than 4,000 asylum applications per month while handing out £50.8bn in foreign aid to countries far richer than our own.

We must all wonder if everything is looking so rosy why do we have so many Brits in need of foodbanks and so many pensioners below the poverty line? And why does our Chancellor George Osborne need to borrow £107.7bn to July 2014 – an equal amount to that the UK borrowed in 2008?

The only question we need to ask this Government is "just who is fooling who?"

Thanks for intervention

I WOULD like to thank the three men who came to my rescue when my dog was attacked by a black/brown Staffordshire bull terrier as we walked along Walsall Road towards Rumer Hill Road in Cannock. If they hadn't responded so quickly to my cries for help I feel sure my gentle natured 11-month-old border collie could have even been killed. Thanks to their brave intervention we both escaped without serious injury suffering only bruises and shock.

CHRONICLE

Couple's diamond celebration

Bill and Joyce Roby from Huthill Lane, Great Wyrley, celebrate their diamond wedding anniversary

A COUPLE who were born within 15 days of each other and lived in the same street have celebrated 60 years of marriage.

Bill and Joyce Roby, both aged 82, had their first date at the Danilo Cinema aged 15 and courted for seven years before tying the knot at St Luke's Church in Cannock.

Mr Roby, a member of the Cannock Chase Male Orpheus

Choir, said: "We have many shared interests including dancing and gardening and we played tennis together until our mid-60s. We now play bowls which we both enjoy."

Mr and Mrs Roby, now of Huthill Lane, Great Wyrley, have two daughters and two granddaughters.

The couple have several holidays booked to mark the milestone including a trip to Torquay.

Housing schemes approved

PLANNERS have given the go ahead to almost 200 homes in Norton Canes.

Housebuilder Taylor Wimpey is behind proposals to build a new estate comprising 112 three and four-bedroom homes and 18 affordable family properties on land off Red Lion Lane.

A second scheme, for 65 homes off Burntwood Road, close to Norton Canes High School, was also approved.

There were fears the bigger scheme would be scuppered after parish councillors objected to the inclusion of a multi-use games area in the design.

Families

Ward representative Councillor Zaphne Stretton told last week's Cannock Chase planning committee: "What we need is a children's play area as the new estate will have young families."

Chris May, on behalf of Taylor Wimpey, said the company was happy to consider changing the plans. He said: "This is a good development for Norton Canes. We would like to move forward with the development."

Residents welcomed the projects for extra housing. David Bagley of Burntwood Road said: "We need the new homes for families in the area. I welcome the plans as long as there are no issues with the drainage."

Cloudy2Clear Windows - Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done."

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Blue Cross store in helpers appeal

VOLUNTEERS are needed to help man a charity shop in Heath Hayes. The Bluecross store, in Hayes Way is one of 40 stores nationwide that raises money towards helping sick, injured and homeless pets.

It opened earlier this year and operates from 9am to 5pm Monday to Friday. The store welcomes donations of all stock and all enquiries must be addressed to manager

Liz Allman on 01543 275664. Hawks Green ward councillor Martyn Buttery, who is leading the call for volunteers, said: "Liz and all the volunteers are doing a great job and welcome all customers to come and shop here.

"But volunteers are badly needed - the experience of volunteering is, extremely rewarding and a real value to our community."

Charity bank cash boost

A BANK formed specially to help charities has been given a Government cash injection.

Charity Bank now hopes to double the number of worthy causes it supports in the Midlands.

The ethical bank, which lends solely to charities and social organisations, already supports 25 causes across the region. One of its recent recipients was the Abbots Bromley almshouses near Rugeley, which was loaned £500,000 towards a renovation project.

Local lending manager Peter Hughes said he hoped to double the number it currently loans to after the Big Society Fund pledged to invest £14.5 million in the service nationally.

Projects

Other borrowers in the Midlands include arts organisations, community initiatives, regeneration projects and faith groups, as well as sports and education charities and youth work.

Mr Hughes said: "Following Big Society Capital's investment, we are in a position to lend to more organisations in the region at a time when they are under pressure and really need financial help."

He said he would also be running free consultations to help charities explore the suitability of loan finance.

The Big Society Capital fund was set up in 2012, using money taken from dormant bank accounts, and also contributions from big high street banks.

Heralding a new Dawn after locked-in diagnosis

AT the age of 30 life could not have been any sweeter for Dawn Faizey Webster.

She was about to give birth to her first child, was happily married and loved working as an IT teacher in a highly-regarded secondary school.

But Dawn's life was turned upside down when she suffered a stroke shortly after the birth of her son Alexander. She suffered from pre-eclampsia and it left her with locked-in syndrome – meaning she was almost entirely paralysed.

She could not even hold her new born son when he was born.

Dawn, however, has fought back, writing her autobiography 'Slowly Making Ripples' and gaining a BA Honours degree in history from the Open University after studying for six years from home.

Dawn, now aged 42, lives with her parents and full-time carers Alec and Shirley Faizey in Rugeley and communicates with her eyes.

Incredible

Alec, 80, said he and his 75-year-old wife were 'over the moon' with their daughter's incredible achievement.

"It's amazing she has managed to do this considering her condition," he said. "We are so proud of her."

Dawn discovered she was pregnant in autumn 2002. Out of the blue, at 26 weeks, she ran into complications and was rushed to Stafford Hospital.

She was diagnosed with pre-eclampsia and six days later as her condition worsened, Alexander was delivered by Caesarean weighing only 1lb 8oz.

Seven days later she was sent home but a week later she woke in the early hours of the morning and was rushed back to hospital with tests revealing she was having a stroke. After six months, Dawn was transferred to a rehabilitation centre in Stoke where doctors diagnosed locked-in syndrome, a one-in-a-million condition in which a patient is aware and awake, but unable to move or communicate due to a complete paralysis of nearly all voluntary muscles.

Dawn Faizey Webster from Rugeley, with parents Alec and Shirley

She was finally allowed home in 2005, after two years in hospital. During that time her marriage to husband Simon broke down. They had met when they were both aged 17 and studying for their A-levels.

Dawn, a former teacher at Stafford Grammar School, started her degree in 2008 and will graduate in October in Manchester. She now hopes to tackle a Masters in Art history.

Diamond do in store for couple

Diamond wedding couple Pat and Stan Edmunds

Pat and Stan Edmunds on their wedding day

A COUPLE who met in a supermarket have marked 60 years since walking down the aisle. Stanley Edmunds met his bride Patricia when she worked at the Co-Op and he was a customer at the store in their home town of Walsall.

Mr Edmunds, aged 80, said: "We used to have a laugh and a joke. Then one Saturday morning she said she was leaving. I knew which bus she had to go home on so I waited at the bus stop and that's when I asked her out."

The couple, now of Allport Road, Cannock, were married at St Matthew's Church in Walsall and went on to have three sons, seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Mrs Edmunds, aged 81, went on to spend more than 23 years working at Sainsbury's in Walsall town centre.

Mr Edmunds worked as an electrician for the Midlands Electricity Board and later worked for Rubery Owen, in Darlaston, and JA Crabtree & Co in Walsall. He said: "We have looked after each other and we have a laugh. We've always pulled together."

They plan to celebrate with a family meal at Longford House, Cannock.

Nightclub attacker jailed

A TEENAGER who punched a fellow nightclub reveller, leaving him partially blind in one eye, has been jailed for 18 months.

Adam Broad attacked Ben Roche on the dancefloor of Stafford's Couture nightclub.

Stafford Crown Court heard Mr Roche lost central vision in his left eye and has been told by doctors that at some point in the future he will be completely blind in that eye.

Mr Nick Burn, prosecuting, said Broad had repeatedly bumped in to Mr Roche during the night. When the victim told Broad to clear off, he was punched in the face.

Broad, aged 19, of Wolverhampton Road, Penkridge, admitted inflicting grievous bodily harm.

Responsible

Judge Michael Challinor told Broad: "I leave you with this thought. Long after you are released from your sentence Ben Roche will still be coping with partial blindness which you have caused him."

"One can't think of a worse situation for a young man than that and you are responsible for it. If I could restore his sight by imposing a lengthy sentence, I would unhesitatingly do so, but that is not possible."

Mr Burn told the court the incident occurred on December 22 last year. Broad was arrested two days later on Christmas Eve.

The court heard that Broad had written a letter apologising to Mr Roche, saying he never intended to cause him such a serious injury.

Mr Mark Nicholls, defending, said: "Right from the outset this young man accepted losing his temper."

He added the attack was 'entirely out of character'.

Broad will spend 18 months in a young offenders institution.

Hoard programme is shortlisted for award

Care scheme's 30 years

Residents celebrate the 30th anniversary of Oak House with a cake

A RESIDENTIAL housing scheme has celebrated 30 years of helping older people to live independently.

Oak House, in Great Wyrley, is managed by Stafford-based Care Plus, part of the Housing Plus group.

Oak House has 64 residents, who live in apartments offering accommodation and support to help older people live independently in their own home. Its communal facilities include a residents' lounge, hairressing salon and guest bedroom.

They marked the landmark birthday with a buffet lunch, music quiz and entertainment from a singer.

Residents organise regular social events, including coffee mornings, prize bingo, fish and chip suppers, and outings.

Martin Wallace, scheme manager, said: "It was lovely to see everyone come together to celebrate Oak House's 30th birthday. We had a great day."

THE Staffordshire Hoard Conservation Programme has been shortlisted for an international award as plans get under way for the next phase for the collection.

The Anglo-Saxon treasure was discovered in a farmer's field in Hammerwich in July 2009 by metal detecting enthusiast Terry Herbert.

Research into the history and origins of the 3,000 objects continues. Now the International Institute for Conservation Keck Award has shortlisted Birmingham Museum's conservation programme.

The award is presented every two years 'to the individual or group who has contributed most towards promoting public understanding and appreciation of the accomplishments of the conservation profession'.

It is named after New York couple Sheldon and Caroline Keck who are widely acknowledged for advancing restoration and conservation techniques in the mid-20th century. The Hoard will be competing against projects in Canada and the USA.

Delighted

Simon Cane, deputy director of Birmingham Museums, said: "We are delighted that the Staffordshire Hoard conservation programme has been shortlisted for this year's Keck Award."

"This idea is core to all of Birmingham Museums' conservation work, and it is great that this has been recognised."

On its website, the Institute's citation says: "The Hoard programme represents a new paradigm for archaeological conservation."

"The idea of carrying out conservation in the public eye is not a new one."

"Where the Hoard programme has been unique is the intensity and regularity with which it was able to provide outreach and that the social media has gained an international audience which has been sustained over the years."

Chase displays military history

FAMILIES can explore hundreds of years of war tales at the annual military history weekend on Cannock Chase.

The free event takes place on Saturday and Sunday, August 16 and 17, from 10am to 4pm each day. It has been organised by Staffordshire County Council and will play host to encampment and arena displays from the 16th Lancers and the 1st Essex Yeomanry.

The Royal Warwicks will be stationed in the centre's genuine Great War barrack hut, where people can talk to a recruiting sergeant. A number of other eras will be represented by displays, drills and exhibitions, from the Anglo-Saxon, Medieval, Civil War and Second World War periods through to the UK's modern day forces.

Mike Lawrence, Cabinet member for Community, said: "As part of our Great War centenary commemorations, the Military Weekend at Marquis Drive offers an insight into how soldiers lived and trained throughout history."

Elderly may have to pay for alarms in own homes

SOME pensioners will be forced to pay for pendant alarms in their homes in the wake of county council funding cuts.

Around 2,000 elderly people living in Staffordshire currently benefit from free use of the alarms which older people can use to request help if they fall over or have an accident in their home.

Staffordshire County Council announced it was slashing funding for the service, run by Cannock Chase Council, in a bid to save £214,000 from its budget.

District Council bosses have agreed to fund a scaled down version but service users will now have to meet certain criteria to be entitled to use the alarms for free. If the criteria is not met,

By Adam Burling

they will have to pay out up to £86 a year. Health and wellbeing chief Councillor Muriel Davis said: "We disagree fundamentally with Staffordshire County Council's decision to remove funding for social alarms."

"These vital services make it possible for very vulnerable people to retain independence in the community."

"I am also concerned that the county council has chosen not to conduct any public consultation on these difficult issues."

"This is why cabinet has decided to do everything possible to overcome the real difficulties this cut in funding will cause."

"Our plans will mean that the most vulnerable people will continue to receive a social alarms service for free funded by Cannock Chase Council."

But she added: "Unfortunately, we're not in a position to be able to help everyone and some people who currently receive the service for free will not in the future. The funding cut of £214,000 is just too large for Cannock Chase Council to cover in its entirety."

The criteria to qualify for free usage includes being over the age of 70 or in receipt of a disability related benefit.

Staffordshire County Council is slashing £6 million from its Supporting People Grant, despite huge criticism.

The fund, created in 2003, is used to provide housing-based support to groups, including those with mental health problems and the elderly.

Burley praises economy boost

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley has welcomed figures that show the UK economy is on the up.

GDP data published by the Office of National Statistics reveals the economy grew by 0.8 per cent in the second quarter of 2014.

The figures also show the economy is now 0.2 per cent ahead of its pre-crisis peak, which was reached in the first quarter of 2008.

Mr Burley said: "Fixing the economy was always going to take time but these figures are further evidence that our long term economic plan is working."

"In Cannock Chase we have seen the number of people claiming Jobseeker's Allowance almost halved since 2010."

He added there was still a long way to go before the economy was completely back on track. "Despite this, there is still a long way to go. The Great Recession was one of the deepest of any major economy and cost Britain six years," he said.

"We now owe it to hardworking taxpayers not to repeat the mistakes of the past."

Soccer star keeps eye on the ball

STAFF at a Rugeley opticians helped a World Cup footballer keep his eyes on the ball when he paid them a visit. South Korean defender Park Joo-Ho lost his luggage in transit to the St George's Park National Football Centre in Burton-on-Trent where he was training with his German club, Mainz 05. Park, who represented his country in Brazil, was in need of his contact lenses which were in his bags. A call to Rugeley Specsavers in Upper Brook Street enabled the player to have a sight test within the hour. Store director Minal Naik said: "We were delighted to help out an international footballer here. We provided him with a supply of contact lenses and a free pair of designer specs. "When one of the staff went to deliver the glasses to him the following day, we were presented with a football shirt signed by the Mainz 05 football team. The club have also offered us free tickets if we would like to see them play at their home ground at the Coface Arena in Mainz."

Child centres criticised

A CHILDREN'S centre in Burntwood has been told it must improve by Government watchdog Ofsted. It is among five in Staffordshire that have been rated following recent inspections as either 'requires improvement' or 'inadequate'. Other centres in Cannock Chase and Stafford have also been criticised by Ofsted this year. Just 15 per cent of youngsters aged five and under are accessing children's centres in Staffordshire, bosses said. Both the Lichfield and East Staffordshire centres were failing to attract enough people to use its services, according to Ofsted. The Lichfield report, which relates to the Charnwood Children's Centre in Purcell Avenue and Springhill Children's centre in Mossbank Avenue, Burntwood, said: "The quality of services provided is generally good but the numbers of children and families benefitting from them are too low. "Insufficient numbers use the group's services regularly and not enough is being done to find out why." A report before Staffordshire County Council's safe and strong communities select committee yesterday (Wednesday) said four more inspections of children's centres in the county would take place before March 2015.

Driver unhurt after ploughing into house

A CAR left the road before ploughing into the front of a house and damaging a car parked on the driveway.

The silver Vauxhall Corsa collided with a house in St John's Road, Cannock, at around 11.45am last Friday.

The collision left a hole in the wall of the home and a dent in the side of a silver Ford Focus parked on the driveway.

Emergency services were called to the scene and put a cordon up around the damaged wall. Police said the driver was not injured.

Damage

Structural engineers assessed the house and found no structural damage.

David Plant, aged 42, who lives in St John's Road, witnessed the crash. He said: "It all happened quite quickly. I was coming back from the shop. I saw a lady in the car and thought she was doing a three-point turn in the road. Then the car mounted the kerb and hit the house.

"The car pivoted and went into the neighbour's car. The lady seemed to be okay but she was shaken up."

He said another neighbour had called the police and officers had cordoned off the damaged house.

Author's novel way to mark book launch

Author Carol Wyer, from Abbots Bromley, launching her seventh book

A RUGELEY author releases her seventh book next week and has come up with a novel way to celebrate.

Carol Wyer's latest offering Three Little Birds is due to hit the shelves on Friday, August 15.

To mark its release the ex-teacher will tackle four tricky challenges – similar to the ones that the characters in her book put themselves through after they draw up bucket lists.

Mrs Wyer, aged 53-years-old and from Abbots Bromley, said it took a year to complete the novel.

She said: "I'm looking forward to its release as I'm really pleased with it."

"It's quite inspirational and gives people hope. It has some funny and sad moments."

The mother-of-one revealed the challenges she had chosen to complete were belly dancing, zorbing, zip-lining while playing a kazoo and tackling a Bushtucker-style challenge at a restaurant in London.

Conscious

She continued: "I am undertaking four of the challenges from the book."

"Like the characters in the book, I have made a conscious decision to seize the day even though I shall be terrified at the time of doing the challenges."

The novel focuses on main character Charlie Blundell who has to deal with the death of her daughter and a marriage breakdown.

With a friend, who is left paralysed after falling from horse, the pair draw up bucket lists.

Over the years, Mrs Wyer has appeared on radio and TV talking about her novels. She has also written articles for and featured in several national women's magazines including Take A Break, Choice, Woman's Weekly and Woman's Own.

Her first adult novel was called Mini Skirts and Laughter Lines. Mrs Wyer also gives after-dinner speeches.

Memories of a corner shop in 50s

Chase Terrace Ladies

SPEAKER Margaret Smallman told of growing up in a corner shop in the 1950s at the July meeting.

It reminded the ladies of the everyday things they had forgotten that are now long gone.

Mrs Smallman said her mother purchased the business as her father was ill and often could not go to work. This was a way of keeping an income coming in and it enabled her mother to look after her father at home.

Mrs Smallman was six when they moved in to the shop. It was at the back of New Cross Hospital across the road from the school. This made it the local tuck shop for the pupils.

The shop was open six and a half days a week so on a Sunday afternoon they could take a trip out as a family.

She reminded ladies of licorice root, kali crystals and black jacks. Sugar came in blue bags and butter was sold in small pats from a large block on a marble slab. They also sold 1d bottles of pop.

She reminded members of Lifebuoy, Omo and Lux, Capstan and Woodbine cigarettes. On a Thursday night her mother would open a packet of five cigarettes and sell just one to people who were short of money for that week.

She told the ladies that at Christmas her mother would not see any child without a present.

On her mother's death at 94 she still received 140 Christmas cards, sent from all over the world by the descendants of the children she treated.

Bride and joy over diamond birthday

Soroptimist Jenny Holmes with the models in bridal wear

Cannock Soroptimists

A BEAUTIFUL summer's day and the gorgeous building and grounds of Ingestre Hall provided the setting for Cannock Soroptimists' 60th anniversary year summer celebration.

Members and guests enjoyed Kir Royale while they took in the gardens.

They then went into the hall which was set for afternoon tea to be entertained by Notty Hornblower of the Costume Museum in Derby.

Four ladies and a man modelled clothes which would have been worn over the last 60 years and ended with a display of wedding dresses spanning the years.

Soroptimist Jenny Holmes thanked

Notty, her models and their dresses for providing such a lovely afternoon. She presented Notty with a Friendship Plant. A plant was given by Jenny to each lady present.

Afternoon tea of a selection of sandwiches, bara brith, Victoria sponge, lemon drizzle cake, strawberry tartlets, warm scones with jam and cream and pots of tea followed, along with a raffle that raised £232 for the club's main diamond year charities, Staffordshire Women's Aid and Pathway.

Lunch to celebrate 40th year

CANNOCK Chase Mens Probuss Club celebrates its 40th anniversary this year.

The club meets every other Monday at the Conservative Club, High Green.

There is normally a speaker at each meeting covering a wide variety of topics and interests. The club has an active sports and social section with a bowls group meeting every Tuesday during the season.

There are snooker and bowls competitions, quizzes, five-day holidays and occasional day outings.

To mark the anniversary the club is holding a celebratory lunch at The Moat House, Acton Trussell on October 23, followed by musical entertainment.

The club has a number of membership vacancies for anyone newly retired from business, a profession or senior management.

THE Great War memorial stone at a Burntwood church will be re-dedicated this weekend.

The stone inside Chase Terrace Methodist Church has been refurbished. Now, the public is invited to the service to honour the sacrifice that local heroes made.

Grants from Burntwood Town Council and Staffordshire County Council enabled the Princess Street church to go ahead with the specialist cleaning and re-gilding of the memorial, dedicated to the men of Chase Terrace and Boney Hay who lost their lives.

Led by Rev Christopher Parkes, the service will be held at 6pm on Sunday, August 10.

Mr Parkes said: "We hope this will provide an opportunity for local people to recognise the sacrifice made by local men and their families."

Free class a piece of cake

A COOKERY class will be held in Burntwood at the weekend.

The cake and biscuit decorating class takes place at the library in Sankeys Corner on Saturday from 1-3pm.

Children of all ages and their parents are welcome to take part. Admission is free. Call 01543 682447.

FOCUS ON BURNTWOOD

Overcrowding fears as homes scheme planned

A PLANNING application has been submitted to build more than 300 new homes in Burntwood.

A total of 374 homes could be built on land between Church Street and Bridge Cross Road.

The application has been submitted by Barratt Homes. Town councillor Ron Bradbury said he was concerned about overcrowding. He said: "The development will be a mixture of large and small houses on what is currently derelict land."

"This is a large number of homes to be built on this patch of land and I am concerned about traffic and the number of people that will be living in Burntwood."

Outline

"We currently have around 30,000 people and this could add another thousand," Councillor Bradbury added.

"I think the money would be better well spent on a new medical centre and shops because we only have a Morrisons."

Plans for a new medical centre in High Street were turned down six weeks ago.

The housing application comes after planners granted outline planning permission for a long-awaited new estate in neighbouring Norton Canes that will see 65 homes built off Burntwood Road. The development will include bungalows, two storey detached and semi-detached houses.

Designs for a further 14 new properties to be built in Norton East Road and 130 homes on land off Red Lion Lane have also been given the green light.

Councillor Bradbury, the former town council chairman added: "The town is up and coming and we have wonderful people who live here but we do not have the facilities for them."

"I think we would be able to attract more people to live here if we had better shops and leisure centres and activities."

Managing directors Ian Burns (Cameron Homes) and Nigel Wilson (clevercherry)

New look for growing business

HOUSEBUILDER Cameron Homes has undergone a re-branding as it experiences a period of growth.

Birmingham creative agency clevercherry was asked to create a contemporary new identity for the Burntwood-based company.

The re-brand has been rolled out across brochures, signage, sales offices and all its developments in the region.

Nigel Wilson, clevercherry managing director, said: "We created a bold new identity with a vibrant colour palette and lifestyle imagery."

Ian Burns, Cameron Homes managing director, said: "Our investment is proving to be a great success."

"Sales have quadrupled since the rebrand was rolled out."

Groups can apply for cash share

GROUPS in Burntwood can apply for funding to help make their community safer.

A share of £50,000 is up for grabs as part of the Police & Crime Commissioner's People Power Funding. Organisations can apply for grants of between £100 and £3,000. Applications opened last Friday (August 1) and run until September 14.

Police & Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis said: "If you're a community group with good ideas to cut crime or make your area safer go to the website now to find out more."

Applications need to be sponsored by the group's local Neighbourhood Police Officer or Police Community Support Officer.

More details, including application forms and an animated video about the fund, are available at www.staffordshire-pcc.gov.uk/fund

Men's group holds AGM

THE Men of Burntwood AGM takes place next Wednesday, August 13 at 7pm at the Christ Church vicarage in Church Street. All members are invited.

A barbecue will follow, but members must bring their own drinks.

Ways to keep up with modern day demands

UPDATE FROM THE CCG

DR Johnny McMahon is chairman of Cannock Chase CCG. He has 24 years of clinical experience, including 14 years as a partner in a large teaching practice in Northamptonshire, where he became a board member involved in the establishment of Nene Commissioning. He became a partner at the Colliery Practice, Cannock in October 2010 and joined Newhall Street Surgery in February 2014. Since 2012, he has sat on the Cannock board, becoming chairman in April 2013.

Key

One such area is the traditional role of the family doctor and the Government's aim for seven day access to primary care. Access to GP appointments was also one of the key areas that patients and the public raised with the CCG during its Call to Action engagement events earlier this year.

Extended working hours and employment policies around taking time out of work was a particular area of concern for residents in Cannock Chase and cited as one of the key barriers for them getting to see a GP.

There was widespread support for seven-day access but also an acknowledgement that there may need to be compromises along the way.

Some of the suggestions that were made during the engagement exercise included weekend appointments, a walk-in facility and increased use of virtual appointments such as telephone consultations and even appointments by Skype.

People understood that it may not be feasible for a practice to simply add weekend appointments to their existing hours but felt that there may be alternative ways to achieve weekend coverage such as the practices operating a rota system.

Support

There was recognition that technology could be used to increase flexibility of appointments, particularly for those who work or who may struggle to get to the practice, but also a word of caution for those who would benefit more from face-to-face consultations. There was also support for patients being seen by clinicians other than the GP to ease the pressure on appointments such as practice nurses, medicine managers for medication reviews and phlebotomists.

Although the CCG received some really constructive feedback from those who attended the events and also from engagement with community and voluntary groups across the area, it now wants to extend the discussion around seven-day access to a much wider audience.

Do you have a view on increasing access to primary care? What compromises would you be willing to make?

Probe shut on race tweets

FOUR teenagers were spoken to over racial abuse to ex-footballer Stan Collymore on Twitter, say police.

But the force says it was unable to track down others who sent the pundit online abuse after the social networking site failed to provide user details.

Staffordshire Police launched a probe after the former Villa striker, from Cannock, was targeted in January.

Chief Inspector Steve Morrey, commander of Cannock Chase local policing team, said: "A thorough and detailed investigation was launched following the abuse directed at Mr Collymore on Twitter earlier this year.

"After inquiries were carried out four juveniles were located and dealt with through restorative justice.

"Despite repeated requests for information made to Twitter regarding a number of other users we wanted to speak to in connection with this matter Twitter have not supplied it.

"We have also tried to obtain this information via other social media networks but to no avail."

The ex-England international tweeted that he thought Staffordshire Police had been 'exceptional' but it was twitter refusing to give out information.

A Twitter spokesman said: "We do not comment on individual accounts."

The Stafford County memorial in Victoria Road

Memorial Gates pay tribute to the fallen at Heath Hayes Park

The war memorial in Rugeley town centre

Cannock's cenotaph is located at the heart of the town

Guide to county's war memorials is unveiled

THEY stand in village greens, parks, churchyards and schools, monuments bearing the names of men who once trod the same streets, fields and playgrounds.

Once a year they become the focus of poignant Remembrance Sunday services but otherwise stand largely ignored.

From roadside crosses in country lanes to looming clock towers in town squares, simple plaques on a church wall or elaborate stained glass windows, each community has chosen its own form of commemoration to remember the sacrifices made by their own in the Great War.

A comprehensive guide has now been produced in Staffordshire as part of the county's plans to commemorate the 100-year anniversary of the start of the First World War.

MEMORY LANE

By Marion Brennan

locations, and examines the history behind them.

Some monuments include lists of both those who served and those who fell, while some only record those who died. Sometimes full first names are given, in other cases only initials. Rank is sometimes included, sometimes not, as is the case with age and date of death.

On many memorials, names are listed purely alphabetically, others are divided under various branches of the armed services. Women who served and civilians may or may not be included.

Most memorials record the end of the Great War as 1918 – the Armistice – but others date it to 1919 or even 1920, when formal peace treaties were signed.

The guide also includes Commonwealth War Graves at Cannock Chase and the famous Shot at Dawn statue at the National Memorial Arboretum, Alrewas. Some of the most moving memorials feature sculpted human figures. A highly realistic finish suggests the commissioning of a professional sculptor, such as the bronze figures by Albert Toft at Stone and Sandon.

The work of national monument-maker J.Whitehead & sons can be seen at Stafford while an example of the work of a local sculptor or stonemason can be seen at Lichfield where the figure of St George is the work of Robert Bridgeman & Son.

Sadly, war memorials have always been at risk of vandalism. Many are now protected by CCTV.

County Councillor Mike Lawrence said: "Staffordshire has as good a claim as anywhere in the country to be the national focus for the commemoration of World War I, and we have many wonderful sites, monuments and memorials that offer poignant reminders of the Great War."

This memorial is sited at St Chad's Church, Pattingham

Steel firm shows its mettle to rebuild fortunes

A CHESLYN Hay firm is on track with its re-building in the wake of the recession in the UK construction industry.

Traditional Structure managing director Phil Hadley said his business was already recruiting and was on course to increase annual turnover to £10 million – above pre-recession levels – within two years.

Mr Hadley, who started the structural steel fabricator business 26 years ago, said much of its transformation in fortunes was down to taking steps to ensure that all its output was CE marked to comply with new regulations which came into effect at the beginning of July.

“We achieved CE accreditation in December, but a lot of other companies in our industry have ignored this requirement,” he said.

The new legislation is to ensure that all steelwork used in manufacturing meets the required standard and suppliers have to have certificates to cover production, welding and performance standards.

“All of the main contractors are now requiring it and it has means our order book has increased,” said Mr Hadley.

He said insurance companies were also pressing construction businesses to make sure all the steel they used was properly marked because otherwise their insurance on projects could be null and void.

Operation

Traditional Structures, who have been members of the British Constructional Steelwork Association for more than 20 years, started off in a unit in Norton Canes in 1988 as a two-man operation.

The company has now been based at the Findel Works, Landywood Lane, for 16 years. The 1.5-acre site includes a 35,000 sq ft triple-span factory with offices.

Traditional Structures is able to handle projects up to a maximum of £1.5 million and 400 tonnes of steel.

The company, which employs 35 at present, offers design solutions to principal contractors, end users, architects and engineers.

Among its lists of customers are many major construction businesses including Carillion, Galliford Try, Morgan Sindall, Kier and Willmott Dixon.

Projects that it works on include schools, hospitals, government buildings and high-rise buildings. Mr Hadley said the pick up in the construction industry had already seen turnover rise to £5m for the last financial year.

“We have been re-building from a high of £9m before the recession. We are recruiting and are looking to take on five to six people in the next three to six months,” he added. The company is also taking on three apprentices. A general office apprentice starts on August 1 and two computer aided design apprentices in the drawing office on September 1.

Mr Hadley said that the company was now also offering ‘bolt on packages’ to its customers.

“As well as delivering and erecting the steel frame we can also put in steel decking and install pre-cast concrete floor and stairs.

Traditional Structures was recently highly praised by client Willmott Dixon for the quality of work on two projects including Arley Primary School in Warwickshire where steel erection was completed ahead of schedule.

Fire chief rejects the offer of a £7,000 bonus

STAFFORDSHIRE'S fire chief has turned down the £7,000 bonus offered the day before he urged his crews to end their strikes over a pay dispute.

Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Authority approved the payment to chief fire officer Peter Dartford earlier this month at a behind-closed-doors meeting.

A day later, the £144,000-a-year boss told The Chronicle's sister publication The Express & Star that he did not support the Fire Brigades Union (FBU) strike over an ongoing pensions dispute with the Government.

But in a letter sent to Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Authority chairman Councillor Len Bloomer, Mr Dartford has said it would be 'inappropriate' to accept the payment in light of not all authority members supported the move.

In the letter he says: "I would wish to place on record my thanks to those members of the authority who sought to recognise my achievements and who wished to demonstrate their support and appreciation for them."

"However, I understand that support for the payment was not unanimous and that some members raised concerns about it being made."

"Consequently, I believe it would be inappropriate for me to accept the payment at this time."

Backed

"Having the full support of all members of the authority and their confidence in my professionalism, integrity and commitment to transparency is extremely important to me. Hence I would not want to accept any reward that was not wholeheartedly backed by the authority."

Members of the Fire Brigades Union this month staged a number of walkouts in a 10th round of industrial action since September.

When the bonus was agreed, Councillor Frank Chapman, who sits on the authority, said he was not in favour of the decision and said it was inappropriate in the present economic circumstances.

A day after the bonus was approved, Mr Dartford said: "I do understand that our firefighters have got worries about the future of their pensions and how they are going to sustain their retirement."

"But I do not believe striking is the way to resolve the dispute."

Bosses at Fire and Rescue Authority said at the time that Mr Dartford had not had a pay rise since 2008 and that a cull of bosses had saved £400,000 a year.

Giving more earns award

A DEDICATED Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service volunteer has been rewarded for his efforts.

Chief Fire Officer Peter Dartford presented Keith Morris with the 'Fire Service Champion - Service to the Community' trophy at the MORE awards last week.

The service's annual ceremony is in its seventh year and took place at Cannock Community Fire Station, Hednesford Road.

It highlighted the excellent work carried out by operational and support staff as well as partners and volunteers.

Keith, a former IT services worker from Cheslyn Hay, works at the Cannock station. He won the award for his work in delivering community safety in the west of the county.

Keith said: "I was really shocked and surprised when I was told that I had been nominated and absolutely delighted when it was announced I had won."

"It was an honour to be recognised in this way. I really enjoy being a volunteer and giving something back to the community, it is very rewarding work."

Call this a folk album for the future

Greg Russell & Ciaran Algar
The Call

IT'S reassuring that the future of folk music is in the hands of young award-winning and acclaimed artists such as Greg Russell and Ciaran Algar. They have only been together since 2011, a year later they made their extremely well received first album 'The Queen's Lover' and here we are two years later with another full album. No one can say these two immensely talented young musicians have not been making their presence felt on the folk scene.

The Call is the perfect antidote to a lot of music around which is masquerading under the folk banner.

This is a contemporary album which drips tradition. Roses Three is what sets out the young duo's stall and with the narrative of the trial of love, this simple story is given flesh and bones by Russell's solid singing and the wonderfully lyrical accompaniment of Algar's fiddle. As a whole it is a perfect example of what modern folk can be, paying homage to the tradition and still giving it a fresh dressing.

Their musical skills are given a real airing with tracks such as medley 'The Silent Jigs/The Cat's Meow and Overboard'. This album demonstrates all that is good in folk music.

The Call is out now on Fellside Record

ALBUM REVIEWS by Danny Farragher

Phillip Henry and Hannah Martin have released a new live album recorded in Calstock

Fantastic fiddling, heavenly harmonica and great guitar

Phillip Henry & Hannah Martin
Live in Calstock

THIS collection from Phillip Henry & Hannah Martin has award winner written all over it.

Right from the opening bars of Henry's fantastic guitar playing you stand up like a meerkat which has heard something untoward.

Live In Calstock is a stupendous collection of tracks from two of the hottest folk-artists on the scene at the moment.

The album is loaded with Henry's sublime guitar and dobro work, his creative use of the gobiron and Martin's gorgeous and rich voice and her ethereal fiddle playing. The album opens with the medley 'Cuckoo's Nest/Adam the Poacher' with the first part instrumental on Henry's wailing and evocative strings.

Then in come the rich tones of Martin for the second part to create an atmospheric sound.

This gives way to Death and the Lady which has an opening just as atmospheric.

Harmonica fans are going to go into rapture with Underground Railroad. Henry's almost onomatopoeic and breathy playing of his gobiron is just glorious. Live In Calstock is out on the Dragonfly Roots label.

The world accordion to Anja

Anja McCloskey
Quincy Who Waits

ESSENTIALLY an accordion player, German-born singer/songwriter Anja McCloskey is so much more.

She has at least one foot in the performance artist camp and she has a damn good and original voice as well as being an extremely talented and different musician.

Quincy Who Waits is McCloskey's second album and the gentle opening of 'Celluloid Glimmers' has that roll up, roll up feel to it with McCloskey's clear tones coming in to set out the stall of the delights which await inside.

These include tracks such as the ballad 'Suit Yourself' opens with a heartbeat sound produced by McCloskey with her bellows, 'Too Many Words', which will be the first single release from the album, and has a hypnotic feel to it with its constant repetition and the wailing in the background but it does show how diverse McCloskey's skill and talent as a singer/songwriter is.

Henry Lives feels like a light-hearted song but like most of McCloskey's work there is always something not quite gelled, there is always an eccentric twist which seems to fit in perfectly but never lets you feel totally comfortable.

Quincy Who Waits is out now on Sotones Records.

Maxine Peake

The Village (BBC1, 9pm)

The epic drama charting the life and times of Peak District villagers moves into the 1920s, where the arrival of the jazz age has radically changed old perceptions of love, sex and politics. Life is good for the Allinghams in the big house, who are throwing a weekend party, and as part of their entertainment Bert takes part in a race – only to be accused of cheating. His father John is now a dairy farmer, but is struggling to pay the rent on his barn. However, Bert comes up with a money-making plan when boxer Ghana Jones, who has been barred from fighting professionally because of the colour of his skin, offers all-comers a chance to take him on. Tom Varey joins the cast as the 21-year-old Bert, with Maxine Peake and John Simm.

PICK OF THE WEEK

Looking back at times of capital punishment

Over the years, British movies 10 Rillington Place, Dance with a Stranger and Let Him Have It have addressed the often disturbing subject of innocent and guilty people sentenced to death because of their connection with murder.

Now, half a century since Peter Allen and Gwynne Evans became the last two men to be hanged in Britain, this documentary looks back on people sentenced to death in the UK. Fourteen years before Allen and Evans were executed, Londoner Timothy Evans of Notting Hill was sentenced to death for the murder of his wife Beryl and baby daughter Geraldine. Maureen Westlake, Timothy's sister, is still tortured by the pain of injustice to this day.

For the first time, she speaks about the tragedy of her innocent brother going to the gallows for another man's heinous crime. Serial killer John Christie lived in the basement flat of the Evans' home at 10 Rillington Place. Timothy was in a highly emotional state following the deaths of his wife and daughter. An impressionable man, he would admit to anything, and made a false statement admitting to both murders after being coerced by the police.

However, after being charged with murder, Timothy retracted his confession and protested his innocence. Maureen, who saw him in prison with her sister Eileen, recalls the meeting: 'And I kept crying. And he said to Eileen 'What does she keep crying for?' and she said, 'You know what she's crying [about] Tim, Beryl and the baby', and he said, 'I didn't do it, Eileen'. He said 'Christie did it.' And the last time I saw him, he did look like a 10-year-old. His face was all pale. Waved and he said, 'cheerio.'

Timothy was eventually granted a Royal Pardon in 1966, 16 years after being executed. Christie's crimes had been uncovered, but Timothy's conviction for murdering his daughter was not expunged, a matter which still plagues Maureen: 'I feel that I have gone as far as I can,' she explains. 'But I think I am going to go to my grave still thinking that this Government have still not cleared him properly. And I still say it's the Government that killed that murdered Tim. Not killed him. Murdered him.'

The makers of Executed visit prisons where death sentences were carried out until its abolition. Viewers also get a close look at how the condemned would have spent their last days, and the techniques and procedures used by the executioners.

This film also examines the case of 19-year old Derek Bentley. In 1953, he was hanged for the murder of a policeman, despite the fact he did not fire the fatal shot and had a mental age of 11. It was claimed he had uttered the words 'Let him have it' to incite his partner in crime Christopher Craig to shoot.

The show also features a profile of Ruth Ellis, the 28-year-old who was executed in 1955 for the shooting of her lover David Blakely. She became the last woman to be hanged in Britain, and her story was adapted for acclaimed 1985 movie Dance with a Stranger.

Dave Rodham features in Executed, Tuesday, ITV, 9pm*BEST OF THE REST*MONDAY*Kate Adie's Women of World War One BBC2, 9pm

As a distinguished war reporter, Kate Adie knows a thing or two about being on the frontline. But in this documentary, part of the BBC's ongoing season marking the centenary of the outbreak of the First World War, she's more interested in the women left on the Home Front. She discovers that for many of them, it was a chance to prove they could take on 'men's' jobs, from making shells and driving trams to forming a police force, operating on male patients and playing football in front of tens of thousands of spectators. But while some women experienced their first taste of freedom, it was also a time of bereavement and uncertainty. Adie asks whether the advances of the war continued after 1918, or if peacetime saw women banished back to the kitchen.

TUESDAYLove Your Garden ITV, 8pm

The team comes to the aid of Luke Simpson, who lost his leg in an explosion on his last tour of duty in Afghanistan. While rebuilding his life and health with the support of his wife Jackie, the war hero has struggled to make progress on the garden of his dreams. As Alan and the crew work their magic,

Frances Tophill reveals the key design elements for a cottage-style plot, Katie Rushworth demonstrates how to make the most out of cut flowers and David Domoney provides hints and tips on maintaining the perfect lawn. Last in the series.

In the ClubBBC1, 9pm

With Rick on the run from the police, Diane struggles to accept the reality of what he has done. She turns to Roana, the only person she feels she can trust, for some much-needed support - but it looks like the stress of the situation may have brought on her labour as she starts to experience pains that feel much more than Braxton Hicks. Jasmin and Dev have a houseguest, Diane's husband Rick, but when the police turn up the newlyweds are shocked to find out what's really going on. Will they cover for him? Teaching assistant Kim is also feeling the pressure in the aftermath of Rosie's dad's accident. When social services get involved her sense of responsibility is tested as she tries to protect the schoolgirl and her baby. Kay Mellor's drama, starring Jill Halfpenny, Will Mellor and Hermione Norris.

WEDNESDAYSecrets from the Clink ITV, 9pm

Part two of two. Strictly Come Dancing judge Len Goodman explores the next chapter in the story of his great-great-grandfather, finding out how years of hard labour took their toll. Actress Michelle Collins is horrified to discover the Dickensian conditions one of her forebears experienced in a debtors' prison after the collapse of his business in tough economic times. Journalist

Daisy McAndrew follows the tale of an ancestor who dodged the hangman's noose and was transported to Australia, where her fortunes changed.

THURSDAYLocation, Location, Location Channel 4, 8pm

New series. Kirstie Allsopp and Phil Spencer guide prospective buyers through the complex world of property viewings and agents. They begin in the popular commuter county of Kent, where homes are snapped up quickly due to their proximity to London. Robin and Gemma have recently returned to the UK after three years in Singapore and want a family home to bring up their baby, while in Tunbridge Wells, Gemma and Barney are looking to buy their first place together in a very competitive market.

FRIDAYBoomers BBC1, 9pm

New series. Comedy following the ups and downs of three newly retired couples living in the Norfolk resort of Thurnemouth. The friends prepare for the funeral of old friend Jean, although Alan seems more interested that her ex-husband, his old friend Mick, is flying over from Spain for the service. John is wary of the visitor, convinced he has had a thing for his wife Maureen ever since a notorious holiday in Weymouth many moons ago. Meanwhile, Joyce is preoccupied with the thought of her daughter-in-law giving birth any day now. Philip Jackson, Alison Steadman, Russ Abbot, Stephanie Beacham, Paula Wilcox and James Smith star, with a guest appearance by Nigel Planer.

New Scout joins the Skoda range

Fully prepared and always ready for an adventure – the latest model to join the Octavia range is a true Scout in every sense.

Building on the strengths of its acclaimed predecessors, the second-generation Skoda Octavia Scout is a unique all-rounder that combines off-road ability with exemplary on-road refinement and the brand's famous practicality.

Priced from £25,315, the new Octavia Scout features an advanced, fifth-generation Haldex clutch transmission, along with sector-best levels of interior space and a host of safety and comfort systems. Yet despite a significant increase in size and specification, the new Octavia is 20 percent cleaner and more fuel-efficient than the previous model, delivering significant running-cost savings for owners.

Two engines and transmissions are available from launch: a 2.0 TDI 150PS with a six-speed manual gearbox and a 2.0 TDI 184PS featuring a six-speed DSG as standard. The former returns 55.4mpg on the combined cycle and has CO₂ emissions of 129g/km, while the range-topping model returns 55.4mpg and has CO₂ emissions of 134g/km.

In addition to its off-road ability, the new Octavia Scout offers all the acclaimed safety and comfort features of the standard model. All models are available with up to nine airbags and Crew Protection Assistant for vehicle safety in crash situations and Driver fatigue sensor.

A number of electronic comfort systems are available as options. These include: Intelligent Light Assistant and Park Assist. The Scout can also be supplied with a new rear-view parking camera.

Based on the Octavia Estate, the Scout has been an integral part of the Octavia range since its introduction in 2007. Between 2007 and the end of 2013, SKODA delivered around 53,600 Octavia Scouts to customers worldwide. This represents almost eight percent of all Octavia Estates delivered during this period.

Launch of car rental service

Acorn Kia launched its brand new car rental service to local motorists this week, becoming one of a select number of Kia dealerships across the UK to offer this added extra.

Acorn Kia has introduced a dedicated fleet of Kia vehicles which are now available exclusively for customer rental. Customers are able to drive away with anything from Kia's critically acclaimed cee'd, to the brand's family MPV Carens and the hugely popular Sportage SUV.

Opening an entirely new department at the Burntwood site, the new car rental programme has resulted in expansion within the dealership's personnel.

Stephanie Fisher (pictured), from Burntwood, has been appointed as rental manager at the dealership to ensure customers receive expert, personal service. Stephanie brings with her more than 15 years' experience, having gained valuable knowledge working for a number of dealerships in the past.

John Abnet, managing director of Acorn Kia, says: "We're very pleased to be expanding into car rental with Kia. The added service to our customers means that we're now a one-stop-shop for their motoring requirements."

"It also gives local drivers an alternative to the traditional rental services in the area, and furthermore, offers them a chance to experience a new Kia, whether they need a rental car for a holiday or to fulfil business commitments."

With prices starting from £19.28 for one day's rental of a Kia Picanto, Burntwood drivers should contact Stephanie at Acorn Kia on 01543 685656 option 7 or visit the showroom at Cannock Road, Chase Terrace, Burntwood, WS7 1JS for more information.

Bluemotion technology now added to VW vans

By John Griffiths

Hard-pressed businesses looking to drive down their costs will no doubt welcome Volkswagen's decision to share its fuel-saving Bluemotion technology with its commercial vehicle range.

The new model is easily the most frugal of the Transporter range, and indeed among the best in this class of van, with an official average consumption of almost 49mpg.

It has the same efficient 2.0 litre turbo diesel engine as its stablemates – in this case rated at 114PS – but the whole vehicle is lighter, more aerodynamic, it's fitted with low rolling resistance tyres, cruise control, and automatic stop/start.

There's also an energy recuperation system which uses the van's momentum under braking to run the alternator, so the engine has less work to do.

It's the first time VW has produced a full-blown Bluemotion model, although others in the range have already benefited from some aspects of the technology which has been such a hit in the company's passenger car range.

The £24,071 (including VAT) short wheelbase model loses nothing in terms of performance compared to its stablemate with the same 114PS engine plus it's still capable of carrying two Euro pallets – and with a greater payload of 871kg.

For the driver the Transporter Bluemotion's cab is a good place to be. It comes with three large, hard-wearing seats – the driver gets height, reach and lumbar adjustment – and a high 'command' driving position with large door mirrors.

The power-assisted steering and other controls are light, with the short-throw gearstick mounted high on the dash for easy reach.

The driver also has the cruise control system to help save fuel (and possibly your licence), a hill-hold assist system, electrically heated and adjustable mirrors, a radio with CD player, electric windows and heat reflective glass.

Airbags

There are plenty of storage compartments in the cab, and a part-lined load bay which helps to reduce body noise and reverberations from the interior.

Safety systems include driver and passenger airbags, stability control, emergency brake assist and brake force distribution systems.

The engine has an impressive 250Nm of torque available from just 1,500 revs, making progress seem easy and, in van terms, relatively lively despite its impressive economy.

It takes 14.8 seconds to reach 62mph from a standing start.

The Transporter has a wide opening, sliding side door on the left (kerb) side which is almost half the length of the cargo bay, and a pair of rear doors, to access the interior, which is 2,570mm long, 1,692mm wide and 1,410mm high.

The load floor is flat for easy loading, and the cargo area has two interior lights.

The test vehicle was fitted with a few options including a touchscreen SatNav system with upgraded radio at a cost of £565 (ex VAT), and Bluetooth connectivity which is a £245 option. Parking sensors added another £200.

So far, the short wheelbase panel van is the only member of the Transporter range to get the full Bluemotion treatment.

Transporters all come with a 2.0 litre turbo diesel engine, but with power ratings of 84, 102, 114, 140 and 180Ps. The panel vans are also available in long wheelbase, plus high and medium roof options.

Other vehicles in the range include the Kombi, for carrying a work crew and their cargo, and the window van capable of carrying up to eight passengers with a choice of configurations.

The Shuttle is a people carrier, again designed for eight passengers but with more style and comfort.

There are also four-wheel drive models fitted with the more powerful engines in the range.

Desirable Evoque is still leader of the pack

By Pete Carroll

Can it really be six years since the prototype for the Evoque was unveiled by Land Rover?

It certainly is. Yet three years on from its launch proper, the baby Range Rover continues to turn heads wherever it goes.

This 'crossover' SUV, with its angular looks and lack of proper four-wheel drive at the bottom of the range, may not have appealed to diehard mud-plugging Land Rover fans.

But the new car's radical styling (close to the original LRX concept) and premium quality ensured the Evoque became an instant hit with buyers, even though it had the misfortune to be launched during the biggest economic turndown in living memory.

Despite its aggressive looks the Evoque is not a particularly large car, being barely longer than a Focus or Golf. Nor is it especially tall – it's shorter than a BMW X3 or Audi Q5, for example, and a full eight inches shorter than a regular Range Rover.

But its narrow windows and high door handles, combined with the outside 20-inch wheels fitted to the test car, give the impression of height and stature.

One of the trade-offs for the rakish styling is poor visibility to the rear but you can't have everything. There are cameras and sensors to help you park in any case.

The other down side is a relative lack of boot space but this is a feature common to many of the Evoque's competitors.

Inside, cabin quality is excellent and the test model came with a panoramic glass roof, which has proved a popular option with buyers. It does not open, but really does add a touch of class to the cabin.

I found it easy to find a comfortable driving position and was relieved at the huge size of the wing mirrors, which help improve visibility.

The dashboard is relatively uncluttered compared with some of the high-end Range Rovers and there's plenty of storage room for nicknacks.

Pioneering

In 190bhp 2.2 diesel form the Evoque is lovely to drive. There's enough power to get you to 60mph in eight seconds and the handling is fine for an SUV. The cabin is refined and there's notably less roll than on some previous Land Rover models.

In Dynamic form, the Evoque comes with full four-wheel drive as well as Land Rover's pioneering Terrain Response system.

This means it is more than capable off-road and can wade through up to half a metre of water when required.

Economy is reasonable rather than spectacular – expect 40-45mpg.

Having really hit the spot with the Evoque, Land Rover has given it a modest facelift for 2014. There's a range of new colours and wheels and new electronic features, as well as an app that tells you where you've parked your car.

Perhaps the most important feature, however, is the new nine-speed 'Quickshift' gearbox from ZF which boosts economy and makes for more refined cruising.

I found it a slick system which lives up to its name, with little jerkiness and barely any tendency to shift gear awkwardly mid-bend.

These small updates help boost an already compelling package.

Yes, some might argue that the Evoque does not do much more than, say, a Qashqai, which is available at around half the price.

The counter to this is that with a fistful of options (active lights, intelligent pack, luxury pack etc) the Evoque starts to feel like one of the more upmarket Range Rovers – for around half the price.

In short, there are few cars in its class which can touch the Evoque for desirability, which is why it will continue to sell well – and hold its value too

If you require extra space and practicality consider a Freelander or perhaps a Discovery.

If not, choose the Evoque with a glad heart.

Comfort for our canine friends

Commercial feature

It's often said that a dog is a man's best friend. Here in the UK and across much of northern Europe we're particularly keen on our pets and conscious of animal rights. However, the same isn't true in other parts of the Continent as many holidaymakers venturing into parts of southern Europe can testify.

In countries such as Greece, Bulgaria and Romania, the situation is entirely different. Domestic animals are often badly treated, to the point of cruelty.

The lives of dogs are often short and they invariably suffer greatly from maltreatment, being starved, kicked and abandoned. In many cases no money is spent on their welfare with most never encountering the inside of a vet's surgery.

Sterilisation is almost non-existent, which results in a large number of strays. What's more, while EU pressure has forced governments to create state dog pounds where there is a degree of care, in reality conditions are still appalling.

Possible methods used for culling the burgeoning stray population will horrify even those usually indifferent to the plight of animals.

There have been cases of people arriving at these 'official' dog shelters claiming to want to re-home a dog. In some cases it's more than one.

They'll receive 50 euros per animal which, with the labour rates greatly lower than ours, is a considerable sum. Corruption is also rife across the country, and therefore it's hardly surprising that this has become big business. The fate of these 'rescued' canines is usually sealed, death being a merciful release.

Stuart Tromans owns Astro Van Centre, the thriving quality used van dealership on Chase Road, Brownhills. Running his business obviously takes much of his time, but he still finds space to save our canine friends from a fate which can often be worse than death.

Difference

By working with businesses local and around the country a difference is being made to the lives of dogs in Romania.

Stuart says: "It's hard to imagine just how terrible life can be for so many dogs in the country, but I've seen it for myself. Whilst we occasionally hear of cases of animal mistreatment here in the UK, it's rare when compared to Romania where the general attitude towards animals is so very different."

"We work with caring Romanians and our UK partners, and there are plenty of people involved in this ongoing project to improve the lives of dogs in this fairly poor country."

"Through our partners we deliver and distribute dog food to four dog shelters across Romania, which we also support financially."

"Boswer Supplies in Rochdale makes water bowsters and delivers them around them world. Therefore, the company uses a fleet of articulated heavy delivery lorries and gives us use of one of them to transport medicines and food supplies on pallets from Britain to Romania."

"On return journeys we also bring rescue dogs to the UK. However, it's not a case of importing them and then simply leaving them in shelters to the detriment of rescued dogs already here.

"Every Romanian rescue animal has already been found a home, which is where Paws2Rescue comes in. Based in Sutton, Surrey, this charity has a Romanian off-shoot where rescue dogs are housed."

"The dogs are wormed, fleas and ticks are removed and then they are given anti-rabies vaccinations. Paws2Rescue then arrange pet adoption back in the UK."

"Hawkes Green Pet Supplies helps by providing dog bowls and baskets while Moorlandspetfoods.com kindly supplies the vast amount of dog food required. Thanks to Phil who owns both Cannock-based businesses."

"Jinny, Jo and Pez provide the transport and logistics along with the team at Second Chance and 4 Paws Transport based at the rescue kennels of Chellaston, Derby. Many thanks too, to Steve Langley at Chase Accident Repair and Stu at CME Autopower in Rugeley for their assistance with the vehicle preparations."

Stuart continues: "Corruption is often rife and when we've used our own UK-registered vehicles to transport food down to Romania our drivers have been stopped by the police, and they've had to pay heavy on-the-spot 'fines' for sometimes, how can I say this, imaginary infringements of the law!"

"So it's sometimes best to use Romanian registered vehicles to distribute food and other products within the country."

Stuart concludes: "Let's try and help at least some of these unfortunate dogs. Any help and support will be very gratefully received, including donations of food and other pet products."

Bluemotion technology now added to VW vans

By John Griffiths

Hard-pressed businesses looking to drive down their costs will no doubt welcome Volkswagen's decision to share its fuel-saving Bluemotion technology with its commercial vehicle range.

The new model is easily the most frugal of the Transporter range, and indeed among the best in this class of van, with an official average consumption of almost 49mpg.

It has the same efficient 2.0 litre turbo diesel engine as its stablemates – in this case rated at 114PS – but the whole vehicle is lighter, more aerodynamic, it's fitted with low rolling resistance tyres, cruise control, and automatic stop/start.

There's also an energy recuperation system which uses the van's momentum under braking to run the alternator, so the engine has less work to do.

It's the first time VW has produced a full-blown Bluemotion model, although others in the range have already benefited from some aspects of the technology which has been such a hit in the company's passenger car range.

The £24,071 (including VAT) short wheelbase model loses nothing in terms of performance compared to its stablemate with the same 114PS engine plus it's still capable of carrying two Euro pallets – and with a greater payload of 871kg.

For the driver the Transporter Bluemotion's cab is a good place to be. It comes with three large, hard-wearing seats – the driver gets height, reach and lumbar adjustment – and a high 'command' driving position with large door mirrors.

The power-assisted steering and other controls are light, with the short-throw gearstick mounted high on the dash for easy reach.

The driver also has the cruise control system to help save fuel (and possibly your licence), a hill-hold assist system, electrically heated and adjustable mirrors, a radio with CD player, electric windows and heat reflective glass.

Airbags

There are plenty of storage compartments in the cab, and a part-lined load bay which helps to reduce body noise and reverberations from the interior.

Safety systems include driver and passenger airbags, stability control, emergency brake assist and brake force distribution systems.

The engine has an impressive 250Nm of torque available from just 1,500 revs, making progress seem easy and, in van terms, relatively lively despite its impressive economy.

It takes 14.8 seconds to reach 62mph from a standing start.

The Transporter has a wide opening, sliding side door on the left (kerb) side which is almost half the length of the cargo bay, and a pair of rear doors, to access the interior, which is 2,570mm long, 1,692mm wide and 1,410mm high.

The load floor is flat for easy loading, and the cargo area has two interior lights.

The test vehicle was fitted with a few options including a touchscreen SatNav system with upgraded radio at a cost of £565 (ex VAT), and Bluetooth connectivity which is a £245 option. Parking sensors added another £200.

So far, the short wheelbase panel van is the only member of the Transporter range to get the full Bluemotion treatment.

Transporters all come with a 2.0 litre turbo diesel engine, but with power ratings of 84, 102, 114, 140 and 180Ps. The panel vans are also available in long wheelbase, plus high and medium roof options.

Other vehicles in the range include the Kombi, for carrying a work crew and their cargo, and the window van capable of carrying up to eight passengers with a choice of configurations.

The Shuttle is a people carrier, again designed for eight passengers but with more style and comfort.

There are also four-wheel drive models fitted with the more powerful engines in the range.

Desirable Evoque is still leader of the pack

By Pete Carroll

Can it really be six years since the prototype for the Evoque was unveiled by Land Rover? It certainly is.

Yet three years on from its launch proper, the baby Range Rover continues to turn heads wherever it goes.

This 'crossover' SUV, with its angular looks and lack of proper four-wheel drive at the bottom of the range, may not have appealed to diehard mud-plugging Land Rover fans.

But the new car's radical styling (close to the original LRX concept) and premium quality ensured the Evoque became an instant hit with buyers, even though it had the misfortune to be launched during the biggest economic downturn in living memory.

Despite its aggressive looks the Evoque is not a particularly large car, being barely longer than a Focus or Golf. Nor is it especially tall – it's shorter than a BMW X3 or Audi Q5, for example, and a full eight inches shorter than a regular Range Rover.

But its narrow windows and high door handles, combined with the outside 20-inch wheels fitted to the test car, give the impression of height and stature.

One of the trade-offs for the rakish styling is poor visibility to the rear but you can't have everything. There are cameras and sensors to help you park in any case.

The other down side is a relative lack of boot space but this is a feature common to many of the Evoque's competitors.

Inside, cabin quality is excellent and the test model came with a panoramic glass roof, which has proved a popular option with buyers. It does not open, but really does add a touch of class to the cabin.

I found it easy to find a comfortable driving position and was relieved at the huge size of the wing mirrors, which help improve visibility.

The dashboard is relatively uncluttered compared with some of the high-end Range Rovers and there's plenty of storage room for nicknacks.

Pioneering

In 190bhp 2.2 diesel form the Evoque is lovely to drive. There's enough power to get you to 60mph in eight seconds and the handling is fine for an SUV. The cabin is refined and there's notably less roll than on some previous Land Rover models.

In Dynamic form, the Evoque comes with full four-wheel drive as well as Land Rover's pioneering Terrain Response system.

This means it is more than capable off-road and can wade through up to half a metre of water when required.

Economy is reasonable rather than spectacular – expect 40-45mpg.

Having really hit the spot with the Evoque, Land Rover has given it a modest facelift for 2014. There's a range of new colours and wheels and new electronic features, as well as an app that tells you where you've parked your car.

Perhaps the most important feature, however, is the new nine-speed 'Quickshift' gearbox from ZF which boosts economy and makes for more refined cruising.

I found it a slick system which lives up to its name, with little jerkiness and barely any tendency to shift gear awkwardly mid-bend.

These small updates help boost an already compelling package.

Yes, some might argue that the Evoque does not do much more than, say, a Qashqai, which is available at around half the price.

The counter to this is that with a fistful of options (active lights, intelligent pack, luxury pack etc) the Evoque starts to feel like one of the more upmarket Range Rovers – for around half the price.

In short, there are few cars in its class which can touch the Evoque for desirability, which is why it will continue to sell well – and hold its value too

If you require extra space and practicality consider a Freelander or perhaps a Discovery.

If not, choose the Evoque with a glad heart.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:
1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with its Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree. Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

Keeper is left Flatt as Pitmen Diggin

Hednesford Town 1 Wolves Under-21s 0

AS the Wolves team was announced at Keys Park, all eyes were on the banished first-teamers Kevin Doyle, Tongo Dombia and, playing his first game since tabloid allegations surrounding his private life, Jamie O'Hara – but it was The Pitmen who won over the expectant crowd with a performance full of grit and determination.

Despite O'Hara and Dombia looking a class above at times it was former Brackley Town striker Steve Diggin who hogged the limelight in a frantic opening 15 minutes as he first advanced down the right and superbly chipped the helpless Jon Flatt from the edge of the area to open the scoring 11 minutes in and then, just 90 seconds later, was felled by Dombia in the penalty area.

Diggin picked himself up but sent a weak penalty to Flatt's left who easily got down to save the spot-kick and prevent the hosts taking a shock 2-0 lead.

To Hednesford's credit they showed superb application in preventing O'Hara from influencing the game too much.

Marvin Robinson raced clear only to shoot straight at Flatt.

Athletes become division champions

Cannock and Stafford Athletics Club members

CANNOCK & Stafford Athletics Club are the Midland Senior League Division 3 Champions after winning the final meeting of the season at Kettering.

Among the successes were Martin Roberts came second in the hammer (36.65m) and Jak Carpenter won the 'B' string.

Jak had a busy start running from the hammer cage to the pole vault which was taking place at the opposite end of the track. In his first pole vault competition, Jak won with a vault of 3m. Jak's successful meeting continued with victory in the shot (11.26m) and discus (34.10m) and a second place in the 100m B with 11.9. Martin also came second in the discus B.

The female athletes were also on fire. Isabel Rogers and Natalie Ainge both produced season best long jumps, Izzy with 5.27m to finish second in the A and Natalie Ainge winning the B with 5.03m.

Izzy also smashed her shot PB to win with 10.41m, won the 200m B in 27.0 and came second in both 100m A and triple jump B. Nat won the 400m hurdles in 66.1, the 100m hurdles B in a PB of 19 and gained a season's best of 10.22 in the triple jump to finish third.

Smith is aiming to finish in the top six

DEAN SMITH says Walsall are capable of a top six finish this season.

THE Saddlers get their League One campaign underway at Port Vale on Saturday with the manager claiming there is nothing for them to fear.

A busy summer at the departure of skipper Andy Butler and an overhaul of the forward line.

And while the boss expects the division to again be tough this term – even without the likes of Wolves and big-spending Brentford – he believes his side are in a position to mount a challenge for the play-offs.

"The realistic aim is to try and get in the top six again," said Smith, "I think we are capable of doing it."

"I think it will probably be a more even league – though having said that it seems with their new owner, Leyton Orient have a bigger pot to choose from judging by their new signings."

"The teams who came down will be competitive but there is nothing we really need to fear. We will certainly respect them – Yeovil, Barnsley and Doncaster and the teams coming up."

"It is going to be a really competitive league, the standouts are probably Sheffield United, with the way they finished last season off and the signings they have made."

"Bristol City too have made a big noise in terms of the signings they have made."

Smith's men have flirted with the play-offs the past

Banks's has seen the defeat in Football two years but ultimately fell short and the manager has spent much of the summer trying to remedy the lack of goals which proved their downfall last time around.

"It's a tough league still, I think it is as competitive as it ever has been," he added.

"There is no-one really who stands out and you would say they are going to run away with it but the four did it last season with Brentford, Wolves, Leyton Orient and Preston."

"It is going to be challenging, I'm sure Peterborough will want to go one better as well. It is a challenge but one we are looking forward to."

The Saddlers played their final pre-season friendly at home to Villa.

Walsall's first game of the season is this Saturday away to Port Vale.

They play their first home game at the Banks's Stadium against Bradford City on August 16 and they face a cup match the same week facing Southend on August 12. Other games at home for the Saddlers include Yeovil August 19 and Colchester on September 6.

Scholars come out even against Rangers

Jermaine Johnson snuffs out the danger for the Scholars in the friendly against Smethwick

Chasetown 2 Smethwick Rangers 2

HONOURS were even as Smethwick Rangers brought forward their friendly with Chasetown to fill a gap when Walsall FC had to rearrange their match with the Scholars.

Chasetown started brightly and took the lead with a close range effort from Jazz Luckie.

Smethwick played some neat, attractive football as the half progressed and deservedly equalised through Gurjit Singh midway through the half.

On the stroke of half-time, the visitors took the lead when the Kris Dickinson netted from close range.

At first, the assistant referee flagged to suggest an infringement but the goal stood.

The Scholars levelled late on with a well-taken volley from Jordan Nadat from the edge of the penalty area and they almost won the match when Dexter Ravenhill's fired a shot but it came back off the post and both teams had to settle for the draw.

Travel all set for new Pitmen campaign

THE Pitmen begin their Vanarama Conference North season on Saturday afternoon with a trip to Lincolnshire as Rob Smith's side face Gainsborough Trinity looking to repeat last year's superb fourth placed finish.

The Hednesford Town Independent Travel Club will once again be running coaches to all away games this season with Saturday's game which will cost £18 Adults/£15 Concessions and leaves Keys Park at 9.30am.

The home of The Pitmen then hosts its opening league fixture of the 2014/15 season when Leamington make the short journey from Warwickshire next Tuesday night, kickoff, 7.45pm before one of this season's favourites for promotion, Harrogate Town, are welcomed to Hednesford on Saturday 16 August.

Hednesford Town Supporters Association chairman, Scott Smith, has echoed the feeling of optimism throughout the Pitmen faithful and believes that, once again, the fans will play a vital part in creating the atmosphere..

Any supporters interested in travelling to Gainsborough on Saturday can contact Ken Leese on 07935 723290 to book a space on the coach.

Saddlers aim for deal on Manset

NEGOTIATIONS are continuing as Walsall aimed to broker a deal for French striker Mathieu Manset.

The Saddlers are locked in talks with the 22-year-old's representatives, with manager Dean Smith keen on adding the former Hereford and Reading hitman to his forward ranks.

Manset impressed on trial at the Banks's last week but has now returned to France as discussions continue.

"We are talking and it's with a view to a deal, obviously when you are dealing with agents it gets a little bit trickier," revealed Smith.

"That is where we are at. He was at Royal Antwerp last season but he is based in France, we are negotiating with his people."

Sams is the man with the record

CANNOCK batsman Anthony Sams is celebrating record-breaking status after a stunning innings.

The Aussie overseas player's total of 261 not out in the Premier Division leaders' crushing 365-run win over Old Wulfs and Tettenhall set three milestones.

His innings was the highest ever in the Staffs Clubs Championship, the highest ever by a Cannock player, and also set up the biggest winning margin in the league's history.

Sams' haul, which included 38 fours and seven sixes and came off just 118 balls, propelled Cannock to 389-3 declared. They bowled Old Wulfs out for just 24, Ed Fleet taking 6-8 and Qamas Abbas 4-9. But it was Sams who grabbed the headlines as he took his tally to 1,000 runs this season.

"I was batting at the other end," said captain Will Fleet. "As soon as he got started, I thought: 'I'm going to hit singles and just watch him play.'"

"He hits the ball so well." Pelsall kept up the pressure on table-topping Cannock with a 205-run success over Whittington which leaves the gap between first and second at five points. Todd Henderson hit 106 not out in 315-5 declared and then took 7-14 as Whittington were dismissed for 111.

Ellie grabs gold gong

WALSALL'S Ellie Simmonds, Steph Slater and Susie Rodgers won gold for Great Britain on the first day of the IPC Swimming European Championships in Eindhoven.

Paralympic and world champion Simmonds took the 400m freestyle S6 title in five minutes 28.31 seconds. Rodgers won the 400m freestyle S7 and Slater took the women's S8 100m backstroke.

Simmonds, 19, was "really happy" to win gold, but said: "It was a rubbish swim. I'm not happy with the time."

Rodgers said: "It was one of those ones where you don't know what is going to happen."

"I had a race plan and I'm pleased with how it went. It was a good time. We are going in the right direction."

The championships run until Sunday, 10 August.

Reedswood get their second win on the run

FC Reedswood 3 Crewe Alexandra LFC 1
FCREEDSWOOD ladies made it two wins on the bounce against Crewe Alexandra at the weekend in our third pre-season friendly.

The game was evenly contested from the early stages, but it was FCR who opened up the scoring 15 minutes into the half following a good attack down the left wing and tempting the ball into the path of Poole who finished well.

After the break Hughes was unlucky not to make it 2-0 after her left footed strike hit the upright with the rebound falling kindly to the Crewe keeper to make the save. Minutes later Crewe got an deserved equaliser following a quick break and well executed pass from out wide which their attacker stretched to touch past Lewis.

The FCR defence had successfully soaked up the pressure for 65 minutes but the goal gave Crewe a lift as they pushed to get a second.

The experience within the squad gave FCR the edge as the home side responded with two goals within the last twenty minutes to seal the victory. Poole latched onto a poor clearance from the opposition keeper and made it 2-1 with a first time strike from 30 yards and Hughes made it 3-1 from a curling free kick after a foul on Poole as she combined with Clarke down the left.

There is more work to do but the character of the squad shone through and with a number of first team regulars unavailable and players adapting to unfamiliar positions this was a great result.

Our next first team friendly is away against PILCS Ladies FC based in Pontypool and were last season runners up in the Welsh Premier League.

The club is still looking for players and volunteers to join us and compete in the FA Womens Premier League this season.

Reedswood are also urgently seeking support and sponsorship following their promotion last season to help us deal with the increased financial demands of playing at a higher level.

If anyone is interested in joining, working with or supporting the club this season then they are asked to email info@fcreedswood.co.uk.

Town are too strong for Baggies

HEDNESFORD Town continued their good pre-season campaign with a convincing 2-0 victory over a young West Bromwich Albion XI.

The home side started strongly and were ahead after just seven minutes when good work by Alex Melbourne down the right saw him whip in an excellent cross which was turned home by Steve Diggin six yards out.

In the 19th minute Town thought they had doubled their lead only for that man Diggin to see his headed effort ruled out for offside.

The visitors rarely threatened Dan Crane in the Town goal, striker Alex Jones blazing well over the bar from just outside the area being the closest they went to even testing the shot-stopper early on.

Albion's afternoon soon went from bad to worse when striker Danny Barrow was stretchered off with suspected ankle ligament damage.

Any chance of the Baggies forcing their way back in was snuffed out in the 64th minute as Hednesford made it 2-0 through Tom Thorley who was on hand to head home.

Lockmen earn their victory

WILLENHALL Town wrapped up their pre-season with a hard-earned 4-2 win at Rostance Edwards, thanks mainly to a Ryan Ward hat-trick.

On 18 minutes Ward got his first. Rostance levelled three minutes later, but Ward restored the lead.

Jake Moran rounded off the scoring.

The Chronicle, a Midland News Association Ltd publication, printed by the company at Ketter, Telford, Thursday, August 7

Halesowen Town 2 Hednesford Town 1
HALESOWEN triumphed over Vanarama Conference North Hednesford Town to maintain the encouraging set of results in the pre-season preparations.

The Yeltz dealt comfortably with early Pitmen pressure as Ben Bailey's header from a 9th minute corner was blocked.

Halesowen then looked dangerous and twice went close with Danny Crane saving well in the 25th minute.

Hotshot Ben Haseley opened the scoring in the 35th minute after Jamie Ashmore missed a through ball from Neil MacKenzie, allowing Haseley to calmly round Crane and slot home.

The Pitmen levelled on the stroke of half-time following panic in the home defence when Paul Sullivan controlled a cross and lofted the ball over home goalkeeper Matt Sargeant and an ensuing collision between home defenders Curtis Tilt and Kris Green resulted in an own goal.

But Tilt struck an unstoppable winning 20 yard volley from the edge of the penalty area for Halesowen just seven minutes into the second half and then went close with a 65th minute header from an Aaron Griffiths corner.

Late on, Iyseden Christie fired over the Hednesford bar after combining with substitute Robert Thompson-Brown in the 82nd minute and with four minutes remaining Hednesford's Lewis Taylor-Boyce screwed an opening wide of the post.
